Access road to shopping centers is endorsed

NO CIRCUS WOULD BE COMPLETE without an elephant act, and pachyderms were among the featured performers this week in the Shrine Circus at 5100 Nameoki Road. In the picture are dancing Asian elephants, billed as "patriarchs of pageantry," and their trainer.

At its September meeting yesterday, the Quad-City area prayer breakfast group gave strong backing to the concept of providing an access road west of Nameoki Road to help ease traffic congestion in the vicinity of the Cross Roads, Nameoki Village, American Village and Belvedere shopping centers.

Port plan compromise

Failing to consider the majority finding of its Port Development Task Force, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board yesterday adopted a compromise proposal giving the Bi-State Development Agency limited authority to coordinate port planning in this region.

The majority report, favoring coordination by Missouri's Illinois Metropolitan Port Association, was not presented to the board for action. Instead, a minority report vesting extensive port powers in Bi-State was introduced. It appeared headed for a possible tie vote, which would have enabled East-West Chairman Lawrence Ross to break the tie in favor of the minority plan.

Central Hardware store here

The Central Hardware chain will move into the Quad-City area Monday and will operate the former Schermer Essen Hardware, 4010 Pontoon Road, Pontoon Beach, until its new store in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center in Granite City is completed, about March 1.

A company official said Central Hardware will continue to operate the Pontoon Beach store "basically the same as it is now being operated, and with the same people for the time being."

He said the Pontoon Beach store will be closed when the new Crossroads store opens. The Crossroads store will have the largest selling area of any Central Hardware in the St. Louis metropolitan area, he explained.

While the Pontoon Beach store has about 15,000 square feet, the Central Hardware at Crossroads will have 66,000 square feet, he added.

The new local store is the 24th store in the Central Hardware chain and is the 13th in the St. Louis metropolitan area. The chain also operates three in the Indianapolis, Ind., area, four around Memphis, Tenn., and four in Orange County, Calif.

The spokesman said hiring of additional personnel who will be needed for the Crossroads store will begin in February.

south at the rear of the Cross Roads, Nameoki and American centers, all of which face Nameoki Road in the area north of Fehling Road.

The access road could then connect with Fehling Road and State Street or could be extended along the southeast side of the main railroad right-of-way toward the Downtown Granite City area, reaching 25th Street or going beyond 25th to a point nearer the central business district.

The discussion brought out that most of the required right-of-way is available without further cost.

While the Nameoki-Fehling-Johnson Road intersection is to be improved with left turn lanes, and signal lights are to be installed along Nameoki Road at Mantley Avenue and at Lindell Boulevard, the consensus yesterday was that congestion will remain severe until an additional thoroughfare is authorized and constructed.

Richard West, community service chairman of the Granite City Rotary Club, presided and those speaking included shopping center developers James Henderson and Henry Ross.

Now a year old, the monthly breakfast series is intended to spotlight community issues and seek improvements related to them. Its current topics include traffic coordination and the advancement of labor-management relations.

The latter topic was dealt with in a series of discussions by the group on construction aspects, followed by further talks during the summer between contractors and trade union officials. A report on construction field developments is anticipated this fall.

The breakfast group was among those active in encouraging Quad-City annexation to Belleville Area College, now accomplished.

In the field of health services, it was noted that a system for referring new patients to medical doctors is being delayed pending a study of ways to finance required liability insurance.

Sister Mary Thomas, president of St. Elizabeth Hospital, reported that 24-hour-a-day emergency room medical service continues, and that two physicians are on duty during the peak evening hours of 6 o'clock to midnight.

YMCA LOBBY REDECORATED. The final touches for redecorating of the lobby of the Tri-City Area YMCA were completed this week when drapes were installed in the windows. Robert Lombardi of Lombardi Paint Store and Mrs. Alice Baugh, interior decorator for the store, are pictured. She has been guiding the decorating of the "Y" and set out the plan which was followed. Lombardi offered his services in preparing surfaces for painting or wallpapering. "The Y" is deeply appreciative of the excellent quality of service provided by them," Harold Rudolph, executive director, commented. "With the first step completed, we can move to other areas of the YMCA that need renovation."

Concern on vandalism

A delegation of approximately 50 East Madison residents of the McNair and McCasland avenue areas, crowded the chambers of the Madison City Council Tuesday evening to ask that something be done to curb an alleged increase in vandalism and loitering by children in the area.

Second Ward Alderman Don Broyles introduced the group to the council and briefly explained its problems.

Mayor Mike Sasys assured the people that the police will do everything possible to solve the problem. He said he believes that walking police patrols will help.

It was noted that parents of children living in the area could help ease the problem, if they would keep closer track of their children's whereabouts and actions. The police then would be better able to handle any "outsiders" that come into the neighborhood, aldermen suggested.

A discussion on stricter enforcement of the curfew law was held. The possibility of having the traditional 9 p.m. curfew sound at 10:30 p.m., the time of the state curfew law for persons under 18, is also being considered.

"We are going to do everything possible to eliminate the problem. We need the cooperation of the citizens to notify the police the minute they see something going on. A person does not need to leave his name if he is afraid to become involved," Sasys assured the group.

Madison presently has only 11 patrol officers to cover the three square miles of city with approximately 7,000 persons.

The National Association of Chiefs of Police recommends that for adequate police protection, one patrol officer is needed for every 500 population, in addition to desk personnel, a detective force and chief, according to a police spokesman.

Resolutions condemning property as unsafe at 915 Lowe Ave. and 809 Jefferson St. were approved.

A resolution also was approved supporting the initiation of a food stamp center in Madison for the area. It was felt (Continued on Page 3)

Bonds for jail, sanitary sewers

A new Madison County Jail came closer to reality Tuesday afternoon as the Madison County Board authorized the sale of $4 million in general obligation bonds for a construction project.

A downtown Edwardsville site is favored for the new jail as a parcel of sufficient size is being offered to the county without cost.

The tentative location would be between Randle and Center streets at Benton Street. The city of Edwardsville has indicated it would be willing to close and vacate Benton Street in that block for a new jail.

Property would be donated by Edwardsville Motor Service, the Bank of Edwardsville and the city. The site also would include two parking lots now owned by the county.

The authority to issue bonds was given by a unanimous vote of the county board, but there was a disagreement on the floor on a proposed amendment introduced by board member Robert Ford of Wood River which would have eliminated space for the sheriff's department in the new building.

That amendment was defeated and plans call for both the jail and the sheriff's department in any building which would be constructed.

The board voted to retain Charles and Trautman of St. Louis as bonding authorities for the jail issue.

Law provides that if 10 percent of those who voted in the last general election (1972) would sign petitions within 28 days of the completion of legal publication of the issue, the county clerk would call a special election on the bond issue and give the voters an opportunity to approve or reject the proposal.

A total of 10,140 signatures would be required to call a special election.

Parente answers critics

Criticism of the Granite City Fire Department for not responding to a fire west of Route Three near West Pontoon Road last week was answered this week by Fire Chief Don Parente.

Parente said persons living outside of the city should not expect the city's fire department to respond to house fires.

"If we have a truck out of service at a fire that is not in the city limits and another house inside the city burns, we are responsible for that," Parente said.

He commented that he and Mayor Paul Schuler have given sufficient warning to persons in "no man's land" concerning fire protection, suggesting that they should annex into the city if they wish to be served by the fire department.

A vacant two-story farmhouse burned to the ground one week ago tonight as the Granite City, Mitchell and Long Lake departments refused to respond to repeated alarms.

Parente also responded to one woman's complaint that the fire department has watered down the Trailriders Saddle Club arena west of Route Three and outside of the city. "Apparently a horse arena is more important than our homes," the woman charged.

Parente said he did send a truck from the West Granite City fire station to the Trailriders arena in July to water the track and keep excessive dust from blowing up.

"The fire truck was in service at that time and would have been ready to respond to a fire immediately," Parente said.

He added that most members of the Trailriders Club are Granite City residents and pay taxes to support the fire department, where residents of the area west of Route Three do not.

Madison County will serve as authorized agent for bonding purposes for the proposed Four Township Sewer Program, it was determined Tuesday. The program will provide sanitary sewers for Chouteau, Nameoki, Venice and Granite City townships.

The County Board Tuesday voted to create a special sewer district which will be authorized to sell about $5 million worth of revenue bonds to help finance the collector and interceptor sewers.

The entire program is expected to cost about $12 million with a $3.5 million federal and state grant already approved for the interceptors and another $3.5 million grant expected to be approved in the future for the sanitary collectors.

The county's four township sewer committee, composed of the supervisors of the four townships involved, has completed engineering work for the project.

Preparing for proposed link with Ill. Bell

Illinois Bell Telephone Company's proposed purchase of Southwestern Bell exchanges in Illinois is tentatively scheduled for early 1975.

Norman Gessley, vice president and general manager for Southwestern Bell's operations in metropolitan St. Louis, said this week that both companies hope to complete all arrangements necessary for the transfer of exchanges before the first of the year.

Cities which would be affected by the proposed purchase include Madison, Venice, Granite City, Pontoon Beach, East St. Louis, Belleville, Freeburg, Edgemoor and New Athens.

There are 97,000 telephone customers and 760 telephone employees in the exchanges involved.

Over the next few months, specialists from both companies will be working out the many details involved in the proposed transfer, including the major task of determining the value of the property and equipment to establish the purchase price, Gessley said.

"By purchasing our Illinois exchanges, Illinois Bell can become the single Bell company serving its state," Gessley said.

"In addition to some organizational advantages, such a realignment would simplify regulatory matters for both companies, as well as for the Illinois Commerce Commission."

Gessley noted that any agreement reached must be approved by the appropriate regulatory commissions, including the Illinois Commerce, Missouri Public Service and Federal Communications Commissions.

"One thing is certain," Gessley added, "Quality telephone service is provided by both Bell companies and will continue in these exchanges after the change of ownership is completed."

Gessley emphasized that no telephone employee would lose employment because of the change in ownership.

"In order to assure continuity of good telephone service, a plan has been developed whereby Southwestern Bell employees will be transferred to Illinois Bell on the effective date of the sale."

"Then, sometime within six months following the sale, employees will have an opportunity to decide whether they wish to remain with Illinois Bell or apply for transfer to Southwestern Bell, insofar as they may be needed elsewhere in its five-state operating territory."

Sewer bonds

Township supervisor, county board member and a member of the sewer committee, commented after the Tuesday County Board meeting, "This is a big step which will not cost the county a dime. There is a lot of leg work yet to be done before we can start digging," he warned.

He said easements must yet be obtained from property owners and there is no money in the plans for purchasing easements.

"We will not pay for right-of-way. The people will have to give us the easements free. Their compensation will be that the sewers will improve their property values," he explained.

Whitwell explained that the new sewer district will issue revenue bonds which will be repaid from sewer user and tap fees. The county will not be responsible for repaying the bonds, he added.

Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagmann, chairman of the county board, said he feels the new sewers "will be very, very good for our area." Granite City Township already is served by city sewers, but is participating in the program because the city's sewage treatment facilities will be used.

The county board also voted to hire attorney Horace Calvo of Granite City as bonding attorney for the sewer district. Calvo, who is a Democratic state representative, will receive $35 per hour for legal services not involving the issuance of bonds, and a minimum fee of $10,750 for the sale of up to $1 million worth of bonds.

The agreement also provides that Calvo will receive one-half of one percent of the amount of bonds sold over the $1 million figure.

Calvo's pay was assailed this week by Robert Ford Jr., county board member from Wood River, who said the contract would be "a political handout to help pay for Calvo's campaign," when Calvo seeks re-election in November as state representative.

He also alleged that a conflict of interest may be involved in that Calvo voted for the state bill which enabled Madison County to create the special sewer district.

"State representatives should not practice with government clients who are in a position to reward them," Ford said.

Ford and Board Member James E. Greene of East Alton voted against the sewer district and Calvo's hiring, but both were approved on 27-2 votes.

Avoid apathy, governor urges

A party label isn't enough to assure election anymore, and as a result Democrats should not be lulled into complacency by Republican troubles with the Watergate scandal, Gov. Dan Walker told a crowd of more than 400 persons attending a $50-per-plate fund-raising dinner at Sunset Hills Country Club Monday night.

The governor said it is the best interest of Madison County Democrats and other downstate organizations to press for voter turnout to balance the power generated by the Chicago-Cook County Democratic organization.

James Lee Scott, 18, of Iona, Miss., was charged this week with rape, armed robbery, theft and aggravated assault in connection with the assault on 22-year-old Auburn, Ill., woman Friday, Sept. 6. He was being held in the Macoupin County Jail on a $50,000 bond.

Scott was arrested at a truck stop in Troy during the weekend when officers noticed blood on his shirt. He was attempting to obtain a ride from truck drivers when arrested.

The 18-year-old woman who was beaten told authorities she picked up a young man who was hitchhiking in Springfield. She said she drove him to near Staunton where the man displayed a knife and forced her to drive onto a country road.

She was ordered to stop the car, after which the man raped and severely beat her. She was taken to the hospital where she is recovering.

Illinois State Police charged the car for alleged speeding on Interstate 270 at speeds exceeding 100 miles-per-hour when the stolen car went out of control and overturned at the Route 159 exit. The driver escaped on foot into the woods.

The youth hid in the woods while state police, Madison County sheriff's deputies, and a police dog searched for him. He was taken to the hospital where he is recovering.

The victim, whose jaw was broken, was treated at a Staunton hospital and was transferred to Memorial Hospital in Springfield.

The purpose of talent education is to train children, not to be professional musicians but to be line musicians and to show high ability in any other field they enter.

"I want—if I can—to get education changed from mere rote learning to a more real sense of the word—education that inculcates, brings out, develops the human potential, based on the growing life of the child."

"That is why I am devoting all my efforts to furthering talent education; what a child becomes depends entirely on how he is educated."

"Just being a Democrat isn't going to be enough to win... people aren't looking at party labels anymore, they are looking at the candidates," the governor said.

The event signaled the opening of new relations between the governor and Madison County Democrats who have been at odds for the past two years over control of patronage jobs in this area.

The dinner meeting was sponsored by the Illinois Democratic Fund to promote the campaigns of downstate candidates.

Gov. Walker told the meeting that he was "very, very disappointed" over President Ford's full pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon for any crimes he may have committed in the Watergate scandal.

Earlier Monday, the governor appeared at a brief handshaking appearance at a Bellevue dinner for Mrs. Wyettter Young, a representative candidate in the 57th district.

Tuesday night, Democratic delegates to the 1974 state convention, meeting in Chicago, adopted the party platform and paid tribute to Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

Propose county auxiliary units

A proposal that legislation be enacted granting sheriffs authority to appoint auxiliary police was offered by Madison County Sheriff John Maeras during a public meeting Tuesday night at the county courthouse in Edwardsville.

Maeras feels sheriffs should have the same power as city chiefs of police to appoint assistants. He was forced to recall all special deputy commissions, about 400, when a legal opinion was given this year that there was no basis in state law for special deputies.

That action ended special patrols in unincorporated areas such as State Park Place, Rosewood Heights and Cottage Hills where special deputies were uniformed, carried guns and made arrests.

Shots at deputy
Madison County Sheriff's Deputy Richard McIntosh narrowly escaped being shot when three bullets smashed through the window of his squad car on Leyton Road near Bend Road, in the Horseshoe Lake area Monday.

He had stopped to aid two men standing near a motorcycle on the side of the road, and was starting to climb out of his car when the first shot was fired. McIntosh fell to the floorboard of the car as two more bullets went through the windshield.

The men left at high speed on the motorcycle. McIntosh gave chase and fired four times. The squad car went off the roadway and became mired in the mud, ending the chase.

Gov. Walker told 2,500 Illinois delegates Tuesday in Chicago that he will veto any right-to-work law but that "I need your help to help you." His chief aide, Victor deGrazia, will spend the next eight weeks on leave, campaigning for candidates and against an amendment limiting veto powers.

APT. BURGLARIZED
Debbie Smith, 1629a Sixth St., Madison, reported that between 10 p.m. on Tuesday and 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, her apartment was entered and a portable television and stereo player were stolen.

Audit backs statistics

Charges that crime statistics released by the Madison County Sheriff's Department last week are misleading were dismissed this week by the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement Bureau of Identification after an audit of the sheriff's department records.

Robert J. Urban of Troy Republican candidate for county sheriff in November against Democratic incumbent John Maeras, alleged that statistics showing a reduction of 28.3 percent in crime from last year in unincorporated areas of Madison County could not be accurate because, he felt, crime generally had increased.

Urban is a crime studies field analyst for the Fairview Heights office of the law enforcement department.

The trophy was designed by the Granite City High School Student Council, headed by President Mike Siebert. Siebert commented, "It represents the spirit and unity between the two Granite City high schools and is to be presented to the victor each year of the North vs. South varsity football game."

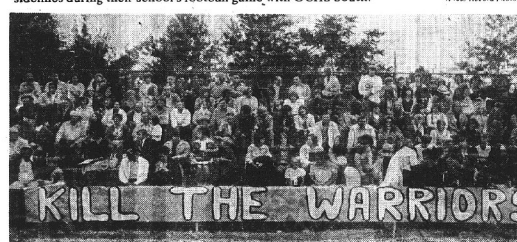

The Steelers of North earned possession of the award for the next 12 months by defeating the South Warriors 7-0 in the first such meeting between the two schools during the past weekend. South is the original GCHS, and North was opened to students in September 1973.

Siebert added that plans call for the winning school each year to have its name inscribed on the plaque. Every eight years, the victor in that year's game will receive the walnut plaque only and the rock trophy will be mounted on a new plaque, with the traveling process starting over again.

NOT MEANT LITERALLY. This slogan helped buoy the spirits of GCHS North fans as their Steelers met the South High School Warriors in a closely-contested season-opening varsity football game Sept. 6.

SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL FANS vocally supported the Warrior gridders and opposed the North High Steelers as the two schools met to launch the 1974 football season. The Steelers failed to "melt," and won the game 7-0.

Off-road racing for dune buggies

Four Granite City residents will compete this weekend in the first-ever Midwest Off Road Championship to be held near Mick's Lake at St. Jacob, Ill. Rich Trent, Gary Davis, Don Ponder and Eddie Davis, members of Mississippi Valley Off Roaders, Inc., will test their driving skills in a California-style dune buggy and jeep racing program which begins at 10 a.m. Saturday with men and women's drag racing.

The program is to conclude Sunday with a rugged, 50-mile endurance race beginning at noon. Persons wishing to compete or obtain additional information may contact Russ Noel, Cottage Hills, at 377-6800.

Unbeaten North hosts powerful, undefeated Collinsville gridders

"We have to contain their quarterback," said GCHS North football coach Tom Wyrostek in discussing his school's game here at 8 p.m. tomorrow with Collinsville. "He is a ten-second sprinter leading a potent offense," Wyrostek noted.

The game will be played at the GCHS South stadium on Fehling Road.

The Steeler grid mentor was speaking of Kahok Quarterback Lou Greer, who along with running back Lonnie Giddings led Collinsville to a 3-0 victory over Roosevelt of St. Louis in the season opener.

"We have to keep Greer's passing and running game inside his own line," speculated Wyrostek, and we cannot do it unless we correct mistakes we made against South.

Granite City North defeated GCHS South 7-0 in the first-ever varsity game between the two high schools last weekend.

Wyrostek, although pleased with the victory, feels the Steelers are not able to sustain drives against Collinsville unless the team overcomes its fumbles and other errors.

Basically, this year's Kahok squad will be the same one that North defeated 17-7 last year, but much stronger due to the year's added experience and size.

Steeler Quarterback Gene Logas and running backs Bill Carr and Larry Schleicher penetrated Collinsville territory many times in last year's contest.

The foot of Lenny Wright was also instrumental in the 1973 season's Steeler victory. Wright provided two extra points for North and a 45-yard field goal, the latter a somewhat unusual feat in high school football.

"Collinsville is a super ballclub," commented Wyrostek.

"When a team can shut out Roosevelt and hold it to only 20 yards rushing and eight yards passing in the process, you know the Kahoks have something going for them."

"I won't look ahead to the result," Wyrostek added, "because every time a coach does, the outcome isn't always the way it ought to be."

Coach Lloyd Dunne's Kahoks rolled up 320 yards rushing and 86 yards passing taking 13-0, 20-0, and 26-0 quarter leads on the way to its 33-0 rout of the Rough Riders on the Collinsville gridiron.

Senior Quarterback Greer engineered two first-quarter touchdown drives, clinching the second march with a 47-yard TD pass to Pat Lackey.

Giddings scored twice on two-yard runs to go with Jerry Ashman's five-yard TD scamper. John Meehan kicked three extra points for the Kahoks.

Collinsville is a member of the Southwestern Conference but it will be a non-league game here Friday because year-old GCHS North is still an independent school.

Its role as an independent has not kept it from defeating teams associated with leagues, either this year or last year. But fans regard tomorrow's "clash of the unbeaten" as a severe test for the Steeler eleven.

South will focus on line play in contest at Riverview Gardens

Granite City South travels across the river to meet the Rams of Riverview Gardens in a 7 p.m. football contest tomorrow.

Unless the Warriors' relatively inexperienced linemen can give Quarterback Kirk Champion the protection he needs by holding back the Rams' defense, South could suffer the same fate it experienced against Granite City North in the season opener, won 7-0 by the Steelers.

South has scoring potential in Paul Mushill, Tom Schooley, Ray Smith and others if the local squad is able to give itself the time to execute its plays.

"Riverview," remarked Warrior Coach Stan Wojcik, "is a big, physical team."

"With our offensive line seeing varsity experience for the first time, they are going to be hard to stop."

Wojcik said he expects the line to make some mistakes, but he feels that "if we can get it together mentally, we might be able to overshadow some of our shortcomings."

With 6-foot-3, 175-pound Fullback Tom Schooley now at full strength and ready to roll, South's running attack should be somewhat improved over last week.

Schooley had suffered an ankle injury in practice and was limited in performing his duties against the Steelers.

"He isn't at full speed yet," said Wojcik, "but he should be by tomorrow night."

"I won't look ahead to the result if South is to avenge last year's 23-19 loss to the Rams, more secrecy and surprise in South's passing game will have to be achieved.

"North read our aerial attack as if it was designed by them," said Coach Wojcik.

"Everyone knew we were going to throw the ball," he continued, "and we had trouble executing our fakes properly."

Quarterback Champion, against North, completed two of 14 passes for only 14 yards. In one attempt he was caught for a loss of 13 yards by North's David Kwiatkowski.

"You can't win ball games that way," said Wojcik, "the idea is to keep the opposing team guessing."

"And with a tough Western Conference schedule coming at us, we had better get it together."

Riverview was the 7-1 last season and 5-1 in the Suburban North Conference, tying for second place with McCluer behind champion Normandy (6-0 with one tie in league play).

The newly-divided conference includes Riverview, Hazelwood and Hazelwood West, McCluer and McCluer North in the Interstate 570 Division.

Ram Coach Jerry Nordman is "loaded" this year, with 29 lettermen returning from the powerful 1973 squad.

Included are Earl Peoples and Archie Ripetto, fleet backs who have enough speed to sprint outside the line of scrimmage and downfield.

North 2nd in cross-country

Freshman Mike Baker again topped Granite City North's efforts in cross-country competition, running the three-mile course Monday at Cahokia in 16:24 to capture third place in a triangular meet which included Sparta.

Cahokia harriers gave their school the victory with 18 points; North had 50 and Sparta 68.

Steelers Robin Tegel claimed the ninth finishing position in the meet with a time of 17:17.

The North frosh team placed five runners in the top ten positions to win their meet with 15 points. Cahokia had 45 points and Sparta had none in the top ten.

Finishing order for North was: Ed Futch, 1st, 16:12; Greg Stout, 2nd; John Bracamontes, 3rd; Joe Smith, 4th; and Dan Buchner, 5th.

The second-year Steeler harriers will compete again at 4 p.m. Saturday in the Belleville West Invitational.

South outruns O'Fallon

Granite City South harriers dealt visiting O'Fallon a double loss Monday on the 2.83 mile cross-country course at Wilson Park. The Warrior varsity squad won 19-0 and the jayvee squad won 19-44.

Dwayne Terry crossed the finish line first with a time of 14:51 in the varsity victory.

Finishing behind Terry were: Jim Hall 2nd, 15:19; Frank Holmes 4th, 15:43; Dave Brown 5th, 15:44; Sam Nesbitt 7th, 15:47; Greg Ahlers 9th, 15:59; and Randy Presswood 10th, 16:10.

The jayvee team placed seven runners in the top ten, Mike Cothran heading the field in 16:48. Rounding out the Warrior leaders were: Ken Meagher 3rd, 17:21; Garth Waidel 4th, 17:28; Russ Smith 5th, 17:35; Glen Ahlers 6th, 17:36; Lynn Decker 7th, 17:46; and Russ Jacobs 8th, 17:47.

GCHS South will next compete at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Belleville West invitational. On Monday, South will host Collinsville at 4 p.m. at the Wilson Park course.

North warriors beat Wood River, Baker finishes first

Freshman Mike Baker of Granite City High School North became the first Steeler ever to win a varsity cross-country meet Tuesday afternoon as he topped the field of South and Wood River warriors on the 2.6-mile Wood River course. He led North to a 20-38 victory.

Baker completed the hilly and muddy course in 15 minutes, 22 seconds.

Steeler Robin Tegel was third in 16:05. He was followed by David Peters, fourth, 16:20; David Ebrecht, fifth, 16:23; Don Lucy, seventh, 16:44; and John Lucey, ninth, 16:55.

Varsity Warrior runners defeated

The varsity Warrior runners of GCHS South found themselves bogged down in the muddy Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville course against the Edwardsville Tigers Tuesday afternoon, but the Warrior junior varsity and freshman squads came through with impressive victories.

The varsity Tigers used their knowledge of their hilly 2.72-mile home course to good advantage, winning 19-40.

Dwayne Terry was the fastest Warrior, finishing third in 13 minutes and 46 seconds, followed by Jim Hill, sixth at 16:31, and Sam Nesbit, 10th at 16:56.

The South junior varsity easily topped the Tigers, 20-41. Edwardsville claimed the top finisher, but the Warriors then swept second through sixth positions. Finishing in that order were Mike Cothran in 18:10, Russ Presswood in 19:03, Mike Turner in 19:10, Garth Weidel in 19:18 and Glen Ahlers in 19:20.

South freshmen also were strong, defeating the Tigers 28-33. Warrior Ken Meagher was first on the 1.5-mile short course in 10:08. James Dumont was third at 10:25, Bill Harrington seventh at 10:54 and Ken Ramsbottom eighth with 10:58.

hope to fly high

Twice-a-day bruising practice sessions began Monday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as veteran coach Bob Guelker aimed his soccer squad for its 13-game season opener Saturday against the Falcons of the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

The drills, at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., have been hard-nosed affairs stressing not only tests of skills but emphasis on increasing the always-running Cougar kickers' staying power. "In tough games," says Guelker, "it's the best conditioned team which normally wins. We expect to be that team."

In pre-season exhibitions and controlled scrimmages, the Cougars have looked impressive, and predictions that this year's team will be a high-scoring one have been more than borne out.

Against MacKenzie University of Brazil, the Cougars almost demolished the visitors, 10-1. Then, in a controlled (near game conditions) scrimmage, SIUE ran roughshod over the University of South Florida, 4-1. Finally, the Cougar varsity poured it on a star-studded alumni team, 4-1. It has been a well-balanced HALFBACK JOE YOUNG (12) of Madison High School is shown trying to "walk off" an ankle injury near the sidelines. The 5-6, 155-pound senior running back will return to action on Saturday as the Trojans host Marquette of Alton.

NEW TROJAN FANS include couple standing, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Richard Corbin. About 500 fans were attracted to the team's initial 1974 varsity football game. Corbin is the new principal of Madison High School.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Sept. 12, 1974 Page 7

Blocking seen as key to ending Marquette wins, Trojan losses

Saturday's scheduled noon game between Madison High School and Marquette of Alton at Madison could possibly end as a record-breaker of sorts, especially if Trojan Coach Al Vonder Haar and his fired-up Madison team can camp out all afternoon under the Explorers' goal post.

A Trojan victory at the Madison field would break Marquette's ten-game winning streak and, at the same time, snap Madison's ten-game losing streak.

The Explorers posted a 9-1 record in 1973 while Madison was destined for an 0-9 record. Both schools kept their records intact this past weekend in the 1974 season openers. Marquette blanked Jerseyville 18-0 and Madison yielded a 35-12 to Wentzville, Mo.

"We should be able to read their plays well," notes Vonder Haar. "Basically, Marquette has the same defense as Wentzville and their offense is similar to ours."

The grid mentor feels two factors were instrumental in Madison's loss to the Missouri visitors—offense and defense. "Offensively," he noted, "our plays from the backfield were not executed, but our blocking fell apart."

"On the other side of the line," he said, "Wentzville could have walked through the holes left open by missed assignments."

Vonder Haar believes that Marquette is a ballclub that moves the ball well and does not make many mistakes. "Their kids are quick," he said. "The one thing we have to be sure of is that our team-type defense functions properly. If one of our guys messes up, it messes up everyone else."

Madison has two assets going for it Saturday—passing and punting.

"We definitely have to take to the air more," commented the Trojan Mentor. "We didn't do it enough in our opener and it cost us."

"To give you an idea," he continued, "we only had eight plays in each the second and third quarters against Wentzville."

"Then we hit the air in the final period and put together 17 plays and a touchdown."

In the punting category, Madison averaged 47 yards a punt with no long runbacks.

To stop Marquette's rushing attack, Madison will have to key in on Tom Saale, who carried the ball 16 times for 102 yards and one touchdown against Jerseyville.

Saale's equal is Trojan Joe Young, who last season led the team in rushing and who gained most of Madison's 137 yards on the ground in this year's initial game.

Young, Vonder Haar feared, might have had to sit out Saturday's game after he was injured in a fourth quarter scramble for a loose ball, but he is reported well and ready to run against Marquette.

Vonder Haar summed up the feelings of Madison High after its loss to Wentzville: "We have only one way to go, and that's up."

Midget cars, stock cars race Saturday

The "mighty" midget race cars of the St. Louis Auto Racing Association (SLARA) will take to the quarter-mile dirt oval at Tri-City Speedway Saturday evening to add interest to the already exciting stock car track title race.

Time trials will begin at 7:30 p.m., with racing on both the half-mile oval and smaller track at 8:30 p.m.

Heading the midget contingent here will be that association's current point leader, Danny Frye Jr. of Florissant, Mo., a second generation race driver.

The younger Frye started his midget career in 1970 and now divides his time between his job as a cable splicer for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and his activities as a race driver.

In his second season of competition, he was fourth in the final SLARA season standings and placed third in the Florida state midget championship race.

The next year saw Frye pin down third place in the SLARA and capture the American Midget Racing Association's indoor championship. He was second overall in SLARA last year.

His father was a front-runner in SLARA during the 1950s and 1960s.

Competing here also will be the top seven cars and drivers in SLARA point standings. Other than Frye, they are: Jon Backland, Kansas City; Chuck Taylor, East Alton, defending SLARA champion; Jack Dillard, St. Louis; the association's president, Gary Hoppe, St. Louis; Kenny Schrader, Ballwin, Mo.; and Belleville's Arnie Knepper.

Knepper, a veteran Indianapolis 500 driver, enters the event fresh from clinching fifth place in the national championship car division of the U. S. Auto Club by virtue of his eighth-place finish Saturday in the Hoosier "100" held at the Indianapolis fairgrounds. Mario Andretti is the 1974 champion.

Schrader competes here regularly in the late model stock car division and is currently fifth in that class's point standings. Len Gittermeier is first with 1,075 points; Russ Wallace second with 1,045; Bill Scherer third with 1,520; and Pontoon Beach's Wilb Spalding fourth with 1,315 points.

Further stimulation for area racing fans will be provided in the form of the close sportsman stock car class point race between Missouri's John Wolfmeier, who has 1,330 points, and Granite City's Rod Bailey, who trails by only 50 points.

The triple-header racing card is the first of two Saturday night programs remaining on the local speedway's 1974 schedule. Last week ended the Friday night racing, simultaneously with the start of high school football.

The race car and its driver, shown here at left with chief mechanic Larry Griffith, is the current point leader in St. Louis Auto Racing Association standings. It will be competing at Tri-City Speedway this Saturday in a triple-header program which includes midget auto racing. MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie Wilkerson who exchanged wedding vows at the First United Pentecostal Church. The bride is the former Miss Judy Sue Mabry, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mabry, 4804 Warnock Ave.

Judy Sue Mabry becomes Mrs. George Wilkerson

Miss Judy Sue Mabry, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mabry, 4804 Warnock Ave., became the bride of George Leslie Wilkerson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilkerson, 4020 Park Lane, at 7 p.m. on Aug. 30 at the United Pentecostal Church, 2450 Pontoon Road.

A white arch festooned with greenery and bouquets of multi-colored summer flowers on the altar provided the setting for the double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Kenneth Reeves, assisted by the Rev. Frank Christ, pastor of Madison United Presbyterian Church.

Serving as candlelighters were Randy Brown, a cousin of the bride, and Steve Christ.

A gown of silk organza and imported Alençon lace was worn by the bride, who was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father.

The Empire bodice featured a Sabrina neckline traced with Alençon lace flowers that was repeated on the high rise waistline and on the long sheer bishop sleeves.

The decorative lace trim also edged the detachable chapel length train.

A spray of peau d'ange lace flowers accented with crystals and pearls secured an elbow-length illusion veil. Her bouquet was an arrangement of red roses, pink carnations, baby breath, lavender statice, yellow and white daisies with satin streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Debbie Phelps chose a yellow gown created with a high neckline, long puff sleeves and an A-line skirt. A white floral trim accented the center front bodice.

She wore a yellow picture hat and held a colonial bouquet of painted daisies, baby breath and greenery.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Margaret Gehline, the groom's sister, Miss Tonya Brown, a cousin of the bride and Mrs. Sandra Jones served as bridesmaids.

Their full-length dresses were identically styled as the bride's attendant in rainbow colors of orchid, peach, light green. Each girl wore a white picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet with flowers in shades to match their attire.

Donna Williamson weds Stephen L. Heidbrink

Miss Donna Marie Williamson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson, 2450 Lynch Ave., and Stephen Louis Heidbrink, of East Alton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Heidbrink, 4933 Willow Lane, were united in marriage Sept. 7 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Bouquets of blue carnations on the altar and white bows marking the pews provided the setting for the double-ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Mattingly.

Mrs. Jane Kozielek presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. June Branding. Nuptial selections included "For All We Know," "The Lord's Prayer," "Ave Maria," "Father Eternal, We Pray for Your Blessing," and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

Kenneth and David Williamson, cousins of the bride, served as altar boys.

Escorted down the white-carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white silk organza fashioned with a high lace neckline, sheer yoke and fitted bodice featuring a bib design of Peau d'ange lace.

Long sheer sleeves were cuffed in matching lace and edged with a tiny ruffle.

Lace motifs were applied at random on the A-line skirt that terminated with an accented-pleated flounce defined with scallop lace trim.

She wore a mantilla veil bordered with matching lace and carried a cascade of white carnations, interspersed with white rose buds, ivy and baby's breath.

Rainbow-colored gowns in shades of apricot, lavender light blue and Nile green were worn by the attendants. The Empire bodices were enhanced with Cluny lace yokes and the long Juliet sleeves accented with lace. Their long skirts were fashioned in a flare style.

Each girl held a cascade bouquet of carnations tied to match their dresses, intermingled with ivy and baby's breath.

Miss Lorraine McKay served as maid of honor with Miss Maryann Williamson, sister of the bride, Miss Beth Ann Heidbrink, the groom's sister, and Miss Sharon Busch as bridesmaids.

Michelle and Edward Williamson, cousins of the bride, were the flower girl and ringbearer. She was dressed in a long white taffeta frock made with a scoop neckline, cap sleeves and full skirt accented with a lace panel and bow in the back. Her bouquet was made up of white carnations and ivy.

The groom chose Jim Henry as his best man, Dick Koepfer, Gary Range, Michael Williamson, a brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Robert Williamson and Chester Heidbrink, brothers of the bride couple. The mother of the bride wore a full-length apricot chiffon gown, created with a gored skirt, cap sleeves and a V-neckline. She carried an apricot corsage attached to a beaded purse.

The groom's mother, was attired in a long princess line gown of pink crepe. Her sleeveless gown was designed with a pink and white pearl beading at the neckline and complemented with a pink lace jacket with long lace sleeves. Her accessories were in matching shades and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Miss Linda Luttrell, a cousin of the bride, registered guests at a reception held at Lewis and Clark Restaurant, East Alton. Connie Williamson, the bride's cousin, distributed rice packets.

A dinner was served to the bride party and their families at Charlie's Restaurant following the church rehearsal.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Her husband was graduated from Assumption High School, and also attended SIUE. He also served three years in the U.S. Army.

They will reside in Alton.

Officiating at the service was the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner, assistant pastor of St. John United Church of Christ. A reception for guests was held immediately following the service at the Beck residence.

Nameoki 'Truth and Action' group in new split; endorses Whitsell

The Executive Committee of the Truth and Action Committee has voted 9-1 to endorse Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell in his bid for re-election in November to his District 25 Madison County Board seat.

The endorsement was criticized this week by Mrs.

Fry-McCallister wedding

Mrs. Tulla McCallister and Jack L. Fry were married at 4 o'clock in the afternoon on Sept. 7 at the World of Life Tabernacle, 12th Street and Meridian Avenue, by the Rev. Henry Crippen.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Keller, 2536 E. 25th St., and the groom is a son of Mrs. Clarence Phelps, 36 Kaseberg Park.

A wedding supper was served in the home of Oscar Grant immediately following the ceremony.

For her wedding, the former Mrs. McCallister chose a pink dress, as did her matron of honor Mrs. Marylyn Goss. Attending the groom as best man was Henry A. Schneider. The newly married couple are residing at 317 Wilson Park Lane.

Helen Hawkins, another of the three candidates for the District 25 seat, Bradley M. Briggs is the third candidate.

Mrs. Hawkins charged that methods used in obtaining the endorsement of the Executive Committee were questionable. Whitsell responded to the charge, commenting, "I'd say it's a lot of bunk."

Mrs. Hawkins said that one member who might have voted for her, William Nichols, did not receive a letter notifying him of the meeting. The secretary who mailed the notices said she did send Nichols one.

Mrs. Hawkins further charged that a member unable to attend due to an illness in his family, Township Clerk Douglas Teetor, had indicated he would come to the meeting to vote on a crucial issue if his vote would change the outcome of any issue.

Carl Macios, acting chairman of the Executive Committee, said he was not informed Teetor was available to vote.

Whitsell spoke to the Executive Committee and recommended it remain politically active. He suggested endorsing a County Board candidate.

Mrs. Hawkins also addressed the committee, saying she felt Truth and Action was created for township activities only, and should not interfere in a county race.

The two candidates left the room while the remaining members voted on whether to make any endorsement in the county race.

Nine persons were left to vote, with five of those present voting to make an endorsement and four voting not to endorse anyone. Mrs. Hawkins contends Teetor should have been summoned at that point and alleges his vote would have tied the issue of whether to endorse a candidate at 5 to 5.

Three members of the Executive Committee had written Macios letters saying they could not be present if they wished to endorse Whitsell. Those present agreed to accept the letters and the vote on whether to make an endorsement passed 8-4.

Members voting for Whitsell by letter were Auditor Kenneth Gleson, Ed Groer, and former township assessor Joseph Cohan.

A vote then was taken to endorse Whitsell. Voting in favor, besides the three who voted by letter, were Macios, Richard Peck, and Peck.

Auditor Norman Hessler, William Luchini, former Pontoon Beach mayor candidate Thomas Elliott and Auditor W. Lee Adams.

Auditor Eugene Gargac and a citizen, Ed Szczepanski, abstained. Township Highway Commissioner Albert was the only member voting to endorse Mrs. Hawkins.

Those mentioned and Whitsell and Mrs. Hawkins comprise the entire Truth and Action Executive Committee.

The committee formerly had 23 members, but many have left due to political splits.

Mrs. Hawkins said this week that she will join the ranks of those who have quit due to political differences and will resign by letter to Macios.

Macios said many of those who voted for Whitsell did so because the Truth and Action Executive Committee endorsed the supervisor during the primary campaign when Whitsell defeated former tax collector Edgar Patrick.

"We felt it would be ridiculous to endorse a candidate in the primary and then turn around and work for someone else in the actual election," Macios commented.

Slides were shown of the work done at severely burned children at the three institutes which are located at Galveston, Tex.; Cincinnati, Ohio, and Boston, Mass.

Applications for admittance to one of the hospitals may be obtained from any member of the Shrine or directly from the hospitals, one of which is located in St. Louis.

The Shrine Circus, presented each year by Amed Temple, helps finance the operations of the hospitals for crippled children.

The first Shrine operated hospital for children was opened in 1922 in Shreveport, La., and since then 160,000 children have been treated.

While, in the hospital, the child's education is continued whenever possible.

The Granite City Rotary club will meet next Tuesday noon at 12:30 p.m. and will attend a barbecue on Wednesday.

Births, deaths show increase

The number of births and deaths in the Quad-City area during August increased substantially over those of the same month a year ago, and showed slight increases over the number of births and deaths reported during the previous month of July.

A total of 106 births occurred in the area during August, compared to 78 reported during August 1973. There were 48 deaths in the area during the same period, along with one fetal death. Thirty-three deaths and one fetal were reported in August of the previous year.

The August statistics, reported by the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens, compared with 100 births, 44 deaths and one fetal in July.

The report brought to 728 the total number of births in the Quad-City area during the eight months of this year, compared with 643 during the same period in 1973, and brought to 333 the number of deaths so far this year, compared to 285 during the eight months of last year.

There have been 12 fetal deaths this year, compared to nine during the eight months of 1973.

The governor used the amendatory veto on Senate Bill 1507 (sanitariums) to delete a section that would have prevented the Department of Public Health from requiring minimum training of sanitarians before they could practice. Shrine hospitals, described

The Shrine operates 19 hospitals for crippled children in North America and three Burn institutes in the United States on a $34,000,000 annual budget.

These facts were related at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club at the YMCA by Wilson Boulanger, Highland, a member of the Shrine Hospital Unit.

Rotarian Shriners Dr. Stanley F. Maer introduced the speaker.

The orthopedic hospitals are operated for children 15 years of age and younger. There is no charge for the hospital services to parents who can not afford to pay. Children are accepted regardless of race or creed, he said.

Slides were shown of the work done at severely burned children at the three institutes which are located at Galveston, Tex.; Cincinnati, Ohio, and Boston, Mass.

Holy Land garden club topic

Mrs. W. G. Cooley gave a program on her recent visit to the Holy Lands and displayed artifacts made of olive wood for members of the Garden Study Club, at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Clifford Mang, 2630 Edison Ave.

The club collect was led by Mrs. D. B. Maxton. Mrs. John Sigile, vice-president, was in charge of the meeting.

Twelve members answered roll call by naming a favorite herb. During the business session a communication was read from the World Mercy Inc., an organization requesting a donation to help build pipe lines to provide clean water in parts of Africa where typhoid and cholera are rampant.

The club also received requests for donations from the United Way and from the Salvation Army for its building fund for a new community center at 23rd and Charles streets.

A discussion was held on attending "Opera on Wheels" to be presented by students of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, when the performance is given in this area, and to attend a demonstration on Japanese flower arrangements at the Lake Shore Club of Chicago sponsored by the Institute of Japanese Floral Arts.

Mrs. Clifford Mang made a preliminary report on the Blue Star marker, a project of the club for this term and Mrs. C. E. Eads urged the members to take a more active part in recycling old paper, tin and aluminum cans and glass.

Plans were formulated for a bake sale set for Oct. 12. Others attending were Mesdames Rola Grewell, O. H. Lehman, Delbert McKissick, Bonare Maples, George Stearns, E. H. Theis and Wilmer Winter.

County continues $4 dog fee

A controversial resolution to continue a $4 dog registration fee for the county through Dec. 31, received final approval of the Madison County Board Tuesday.

An Alton group had been attempting to have half of the registration fee refunded to cities having rabies control programs as a means of improving the city programs. The County Board members agreed to continue to study that plan, but to maintain the present program through the end of the year.

The board hired Carl Mick, general contractor, Edwardsville, to build two additions to the county animal control pound at a cost of $13,950. A resolution was approved permitting the county to pay 75 per cent of the cost of county aid projects, such as bridges, in joint ventures with townships when the townships involved would have difficulty in obtaining enough funds for half the cost of the projects. The county will continue to fund the cost of the improvements in the past.

Services will be conducted each evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. by the Rev. Michael Smith, pastor of the host church.

Nameeki defers action on contract

The Nameeki Town Board of Adams Monday night deferred action on awarding a contract for an addition and improvements to the Nameeki Town Hall.

The auditors agreed to withhold action on a contract "until everyone is present." Louis Whitsell, township supervisor, was unable to attend the meeting.

The board was read a letter from John Cohen, architect of the building improvements, recommending immediate awarding of a bid to the low bidder, Carl Mick, general contractor, Edwardsville, for $83,400.

"I would recommend that a contract be signed as soon as possible in order to take advantage of the remaining construction season," Cohen said in the letter.

Two other bids still are being considered, one from Douglas Contracting for $85,800, and one from Ed Moore Construction Co. for $88,800. Bids were opened Aug. 28.

The bid from Carl Mick is about 15 per cent higher than the low bid opened in March, but the contractor at that time was unable to hold the price as the board delayed more than 60 days before deciding to award the contract.

After the board voted to defer action on the town hall issue, Mike Ropac, former chairman of the Truth and Action Executive Committee of

A figure of $1,000 was agreed upon as an extra payment to R. C. Scheffel, public accounting firm, for additional time the firm required to complete the county's audit. The firm estimated it had completed about $5,000 worth of work it had not expected to be necessary.

An application for a $50,000 grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission was approved and ordered sent to the commission. The grant, if approved, will provide funds for automating a court record system for the county.

The board voted to rebate $533 to Ogden Food Services Corp. for two licenses issued to the firm. Ogden was to have sold food at the grand stand and club house at Fairmont Race Track this year, but was unable to do so after the track was closed by a fire.

Action was deferred on a plan to pay county board members $1,000 a month starting Nov. 1, thereafter on a salary basis, rather than the per diem payments the members presently receive. Board members indicated the plan would require considerable discussion and agreed not to consider it at Tuesday's meeting due to a shortage of time. The meeting, which began at 9 a.m., did not adjourn until nearly 12:30 p.m. Most board members had to leave before noon.

The issue of having future board members paid salaries may be considered by the board at its next meeting Oct. 15.

The board approved the recommendations of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals on four cases in Quad-City townships. Approved were requests for special use permits for the placement of three mobile homes. They were for Norman J. Thomas, on Mueller Avenue in the Hills Terrace Annex; Catherine Manicardi, owner, and Paul Accardi, occupant of a mobile home, on Chouteau Slough Road in the Chouteau Place Subdivision; Jesse Ware, at 217 Carter St., and Jewell Hill, on Williams Street in the Williams Subdivision.

Nameeki Township, and Mrs. Helen Hawkins, former township health inspector and a candidate against Whitsell for the District 26 Madison County Board seat, objected to using federal revenue sharing for the building project.

They said they felt the township had other needs—such as drainage and health programs—which are greater than the need for an expanded town hall.

Highway Commissioner Albert Bell said the town hall and garage need repairs and noted that the roof over the garage is leaking and that the air conditioning is not working properly.

Ropac suggested part of the revenue sharing be used to repair the existing town hall and garage and the rest be applied elsewhere.

The board voted to request Whitsell to contact the township's insurance company about possible reimbursements for damage to the roof.

the building improvements, recommending immediate awarding of a bid to the low bidder, Carl Mick, general contractor, Edwardsville, for $83,400.

Toll-free calls for tax advice

Each day hundreds of taxpayers are taking advantage of the toll-free telephone service provided by the Internal Revenue Service, according to Leon C. Green, district director.

Green reported that the IRS switchboard is open from 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. each weekday. The telephone lines are the busiest from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. Taxpayers calling during these hours can expect a short delay in having their calls answered.

The best time to call, Green said, is before 10 a.m., during lunch periods, and after 3 p.m. The toll-free number is 800-222-2921.

Chouteau garage near completion

The Chouteau Town Board of Auditors, meeting Monday night, called a special meeting for 9 a.m. Saturday for the auditors to inspect the new township garage, which is nearly complete.

The board was told that Township Highway Commissioner James Eates began moving his department's equipment into the new building the beginning of this month to avoid having to pay further rent on the facilities he had been using for storage of equipment.

The township's former highway department facilities were destroyed during flooding on Chouteau Island in the spring of 1973.

The $43,273 building, including the cost of plumbing, electrical work and fencing, was financed by federal revenue sharing funds.

It will be occupied only by the highway department and the township hopes to construct a town hall building near the garage at a future date.

The site is on the Interstate 270 access road behind the Midwest Motel. Auditors were told Monday night that nearly everything but the final plumbing work has been completed.

The board agreed to pay a bill of $17,084 to Bo Beuckman Ford of Collinsville for a new truck and tractor the township received in July. The bill was rejected in late July due to a provision funding the purchase through a Collinsville lending firm at an interest rate the board felt was too high.

In August, the bill again was rejected when the auditors said they had not received an invoice for the tractor. Under the agreement approved Monday night, the town will pay, in addition to the $3,000 down payment from the highway equipment fund, will finance $14,084 through a loan from Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, to complete the $17,084 purchase.

In view of continuing financial problems in the highway department, the board agreed to urge speedy federal completion of processing the township's requests for disaster aid reimbursements, totaling about $17,000. The money was expended by Eates' department during the spring 1973 floods.

Mrs. Patricia Polley, town clerk, reported a check for about $12,000 has been received from local tax collections conducted by George Musso, county treasurer.

She said she deposited $5,163 in the town fund, $2,636 for general assistance, $3,227 in the road and bridge fund, $331 in the road and bridge retirement fund and $481 in the township equipment fund.

Copies of several citations from the Madison County Rabies Control Department to township residents were shown to the board, indicating the county has begun enforcement of its ordinance prohibiting allowing dogs to run loose in the residential portions of the county, even if the areas are unincorporated.

Aluminum recycling

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Gov. Walker has approved legislation creating a Metro East Exposition and Performing Arts Authority. The bill, which takes effect next July, provides for construction of a $15 million center which could be used for conventions, fairs, exhibits, entertainment and like activities. Location of the center will be decided by a 12-man governing board.

The Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development has received a $10 million appropriation to begin work on the state's new coal development program. The program was authorized in legislation calling for a total expenditure of $70 million for environmental monitoring, improving transportation from mines to markets, accelerating basic research, and training people for new mining and conversion techniques.

Approximately 340 billion tons of coal underlie Illinois.

A plan to ease traffic problems on the Poplar Street Bridge has been suggested in an East-West Gateway Council study. The proposal suggests that the Martin Luther King and Eads Bridges be more efficiently tied into the bi-state highway system. The King Bridge is proposed to carry westbound traffic only, with the Eads Bridge carrying all eastbound traffic. Bridges would be purchased from the City of East St. Louis and the Terminal Railroad Association.

A new aluminum recycling plant has been opened in Belleville by Reynolds Metals Co. The new facility will be the hub of a mobile unit recovery system for the entire metropolitan area. Metal will be shredded at the Belleville plant and shipped to one of the company's smelters to be recycled into new products.

A new metropolitan area port association has been formed, comprised of Kaskaskia, Southwest and Tri-City Port Districts in Illinois and the St. Charles port authority of Missouri. Bi-State Development Agency and the City of St. Louis Commission have also been asked to join. The new association proposes to carry out East-West Gateway Council port planning recommendations for the region.

Sentenced to 6 month term

William Barton Jr., 22, Saginaw County, Mich., formerly of Granite City, was sentenced Monday afternoon to serve six months in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville for contempt of court.

The sentence was issued by Judge William Johnson after Barton allegedly used profanity and improper manners in the court room.

Barton had been arrested at a house in the 3300 block of Wabash Avenue at 3:30 p.m. Monday after police surrounded the building. Officers said they arrested him on a fugitive warrant from Michigan.

He allegedly left a hospital where he was being held pending trial on a robbery charge. A hold order also had been placed against him in Michigan by Monroe County, Ill., officials for an alleged escape.

He was taken from the Granite City Jail to the county jail at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday in lieu of $50,000 bond.

Grant for senior citizens' history-philosophy studies

The Illinois Humanities Council has announced the award of a grant of $7,530 to an Edwardsville-East St. Louis community group headed by Prof. William S. Hamrick of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The grant will be used to support a 20-week series of public humanities programs for elderly citizens of Madison and St. Clair counties.

Announcement of the award was made by Eldon L. Johnson, chairman of the Illinois Humanities Council.

Elderly citizens who enroll in the program, scheduled for the fall and winter of 1974-75 and to be held on the SIUE campus, will have an opportunity to deepen their historical understanding of the past 50 years and to become more informed and active participants in their communities.

Each of the programs will be designed to increase the participants' awareness of key philosophical and historical problems relevant to senior citizens.

Using public transportation financed by the grant, the elderly citizens will be transported to the campus to participate in the educational programs.

Some of the subjects which the forums will explore include cultural and psychological perspectives evolving from 1914-1920, the impact of the great economic depression on modern thought and values, and old age with affluence and old age with poverty.

In this program and all future programs eligible for support by the Illinois Humanities Council, the principal emphasis will be on ways that the humanities—fields such as history, philosophy and literature—can bring a better understanding to issues of public policy.

Each of the programs will attempt to offer the resources of the humanities to help answer questions of value that underlie most of the great decisions in contemporary society.

Guidelines for grant applications may be obtained by writing the Illinois Humanities Council, 314 South Neil St., Room 203, Champaign, Ill. 61820.

Civic Ballet organizes

The newly organized Metro-East Community Civic Ballet, with members from Granite City, Belleville, East St. Louis, Fairview Heights, Cahokia and O'Fallon, will hold its first auditions from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 15, in the Becky Kern Dance Studio, 1300 East B. St., Belleville.

A point audition also will take place from 5 to 5:30 p.m. Persons in the Illinois bi-state area, currently taking ballet instruction, are invited to audition.

Junior company dancers are required to be at least 10 years old, according to Mrs. Irene Gintautas, artistic director of the ballet, who said. Audition judges will be ballet instructors from the St. Louis area.

Wayne Bradshaw of Collinsville is president of the 25-member board of directors. The company hopes through performance and special guest teachers to expose young talent to a professional atmosphere, Bradshaw said.

Mrs. Gintautas, who operates the Irene Gintautas School of Classical Ballet in Collinsville, has studied with Kirov-Leningrad stars, Vera Nemtchinova and Alexandra Fedorova-Pokina, in her native Lithuania.

Information may be obtained by calling 344-9106 or 345-4558.

MR. AND MRS. BRADLEY C. BAIN whose wedding took place at the First Church of the Nazarene. The bride is the former Miss Jan P. Sykes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Inman, 2918 Palmer Ave.

Miss Jan P. Sykes and Bradley Bain are wed

The First Church of the Nazarene was the scene of the candlelight ceremony on Aug. 31 uniting in marriage Miss Jan P. Sykes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Inman, 2918 Palmer Ave., and Bradley C. Bain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Born, 310 Park Place, Edwardsville.

Performing the double-ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening was the Rev. Herbert Merritt. Debbie Rich sang, "Wedding Song" and The Lord's Prayer and Greg Embick sang "One Love" and "Twelfth of Never." They were accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Herbert Merritt.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Larry W. Sykes, the bride wore a full-length gown fashioned of white tulle with an Empire style.

Alonzo lace accented the fitted bodice with a high neckline and long sleeves. Lace motifs were applied on the slightly full skirt and marked the crescent waistline.

She wore a camelot headpiece to secure a cathedral-length veil and carried a cascade of white daisy pom poms, tiny red roses and baby breath.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Brenda Mestel, a cousin of the bride, and bridesmaids Miss Sheryl White, Mrs. Sheryl Ariana, the bride's cousin, and Miss Tamara Hemby, a niece of the bride, were dressed alike and each carried a white basket filled with red carnations and white daisy pom poms.

Their gowns were created of red floxed organza over white satin made with Empire bodices, soft cape sleeves and long skirts.

The flower girl, Lorry Sykes, a niece of the bride, wore a white dotted swiss full-length frock featuring a high ruffled waistline, puff sleeves and ruffled flounce at the hemline. Brett Champion attended the groom as best man, Steve Ashby, Larry Born, the groom's step-brother, Barry Bain, a brother of the groom, Brad Evenson, Joe Hemby, the bride's brother-in-law, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Janice Bain, a sister of the groom and Karl Sykes, the bride's niece, served as can-dlelighters. They were red gowns similar in design to the adult attendants.

A reception was given in the church fellowship hall immediately following the service. Miss Leslie Barnett, the bride's cousin presided over the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Inman selected a formal-length mint green polyester gown. White sequin trim defined the Empire waistline and high neckline and a gathered flounce encircled the skirt.

Mrs. Born, mother of the groom, was attired in a blue polyester A-line gown complemented with a sheer lace full length jacket.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their Edwardsville home. After a trip to Lake Panne De Terre in Pittsburg, Mo., the couple will reside here.

The former Miss Sykes is employed at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, and is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School. Her husband was graduated from Granite City High School in 1973 and is attending Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, where he is majoring in accounting. He also is employed as a planner and expeditor at Affiliated Hospital Products, St. Louis.

13,700 in state hospitals

Approximately 13,700 residents were confined in inpatient Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities facilities at the end of the first half of 1974, according to a six-month summary compiled by the department.

The number of residents as of Jan. 1 stood at 13,862, excluding those residents on home visits when the count was made. On June 30, the number was 13,714. During the January-June period, there were 10,959 direct discharges and 287 deaths in the facilities.

The facility housing the largest number of residents at the end of the six-month period was Dixon State School with 2,031 followed by Lincoln State School, 1,891; Manteno State Hospital, 1,738; Elgin State Hospital, 1,216; and Galesburg State Research Hospital, 1,156. The smallest facility, population-wise, was the Herman M. Adler Zone Center, Champaign, with 36 residents as of June 30. Increasing in population from this low were Adolf Meyer Zone Center, Decatur, 58; William A. Howe Development Center, Tinley Park, 81; and Andrew McFarland Zone Center, Springfield, 90.

During the first half of the year, 62 residents of Manteno State Hospital died at the facility. Thirty-nine residents died in Galesburg State Research Hospital, 36 in Elgin State Hospital, 19 in Lincoln State School and 16 in Dixon State School.

Of the 12,365 total episodes of illness recorded during this period, 10,695 were to patients between the ages of 18-64. Children under the age of 13 accounted for 352 episodes of illness, adolescents between 13 and 17, a total of 751 episodes; and geriatrics over age 65, 567.

Most of the 12,365 direct admissions were made voluntarily — 8,779 of them. Another 2,300 were admitted under the "emergency" method of admission as outlined by the Illinois Mental Health Code, 724 under the certificate of physician process, 74 by court order and 71 under the informal method.

The balance of 417 were listed as "other," which includes misdemeanants, narcotic drug addicts, detention and examination, incompetent to stand trial, and those under the Department of Corrections' juvenile and adult divisions.

More males than females were present in a state facility on an "average" day throughout the six months covered in the summary.

The average daily resident population consisted of 8,231 males as compared to 5,966 females.

Included in the summary were 17 region inpatient programs and nine developmental disabilities' facilities, one of which, the Waukegan MR center, has not officially opened.

Julius Graf feted on 98th birthday

Mrs. Georgia Butler arranged for ice cream and cake to be served to 76 members and 17 guests, including The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Herbay Beszo of Hungary who is visiting in the area.

Mrs. Alysia Seipel presided at the business session and the Rev. Leroy Filby gave the opening prayer and led the group in the pledge of allegiance.

In Loving Memory of SAM PAUL TAYLOR who passed away 1 year ago today. September 12, 1973. I have lost my life's companion A life linked with my own, And every minute I miss him more As I walk through life alone. No one knows the silent heart-aches. Only those who have lost can tell.

Oh the grief I bear in silence For the one I loved so well I never knew that hearts could ache With such a bitter pain, Longing for a vanishing face To hear his voice again. I never knew that nights could be so lonely cold and dim But I have learned so many things Because of losing him. If all the world were mine to give I would give it all and more, To see his face I longed so dear Come smiling through my door.

Nancy Bohnenstiehl wed in afternoon ceremony

The wedding of Miss Nancy Jo Bohnenstiehl and Russell Alan Cripps was solemnized in a late afternoon ceremony on Aug. 24 at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

Officiating at the double-ring service at 4 o'clock was the Rev. Robert Kettelhut. Preceding the ceremony Victor Stroke sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Robert Hutcheson.

Bouquets of white gladioli and palms adorned the altar and each family pew was marked with white satin bows. The bride is a daughter of Clarence Bohnenstiehl, 4228 Magown St., East Chicago formerly of Granite City, and the late Mrs. Genevieve Bohnenstiehl. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cripps, reside at 513 Fleming Place.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white nylon over acetate gown in an A-line silhouette style. Lace etched, with tiny seed pearls and sequins fashioned the high neckline, bodice and cuffs of the long sheer sleeves.

Matching lace motifs were applied on the slightly full skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a beaded camellia headpiece and she carried a cascade of pink and white carnations and baby breath.

Mrs. John Bohnenstiehl, a sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, serving with bridesmaids Miss Nancy Miller and Miss Rachel Amelunge. They were dressed alike in pink and white floral print gowns accented with a decorative floral trim and flounced hemlines. Lace daisies traced the round yokes and cuffs of the long sleeves and a hot pink sash enhanced the natural waistlines.

Each attendant wore a white picture hat with pink streamers and held a bouquet of variegated pink carnations.

Danielle Stroke, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a pink floral print frock. The floor-length dress featured an eyelet trim on the sleeveless smocked bodice and edged the round neckline.

A bright pink velvet sash was fastened in a bow at the back and she wore a pink ribbon in her hair. The youngster carried a basket of pink carnations.

The groom chose his brother, Richard Cripps, as his best man. John Bohnenstiehl, the bride's brother and Tim Filkins served as groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Tim Svoboda, the bride's cousin, and Dennis Cripps, another brother of the groom.

Mrs. Cripps, mother of the groom, chose a turquoise A-line gown designed with long sleeves and a full-length skirt. She wore a white carnation corsage with turquoise accents.

Sisters of the groom, Misses Cindy and Karen Cripps, attended the guest book at a reception held at Polish Hall immediately following the service.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Bohnenstiehl is employed in the Internal Revenue Service of the U.S. in St. Louis and her husband works at McDonnell Douglas, St. Louis.

Following a wedding trip to the Missouri Lake of the Ozarks, they will reside in St. Louis.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bohnenstiehl, the bride's brother and sister-in-law from Mobile, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stroke and family from Kansas City, Mo.; an uncle and aunt of the bride; Mrs. Dorothy Herron, Ocean Springs, Miss.; Clarence Bohnenstiehl, East Chicago, father of the bride; Mrs. Blanche Smith of Murphysboro, Ill., the groom's grandmother; Bruce Cripps of Chicago, a brother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. James Peetz of St. Ann, Mo.

TAKE EARRING DISPLAY

A display stand holding about 60 pairs of earrings was stolen from a counter at the Family Thoughtfulness Center in the Nameki Village Shopping Center, it was reported at 2 p.m. Monday. The earrings were valued at about $100.

Bazaar topic of Hope Circle

Mrs. June Karandoff presented a program entitled "The Greatest Salesman in the World," an analogy of a Christian and a salesman, at a meeting of Hope Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Members met in the church parlor for the meeting hosted by Mrs. Jan Kohl. She was assisted by her sister Mrs. Marilee Gilg of Atkinson, Neb., in serving a dessert luncheon to 19 members.

During the business session various projects were presented including the annual church bazaar set for Nov. 22 and a theatre-dinner on Sept. 27, 28 and 29 at the church.

Paul Mabry, church music director, will be featured in the play, "I Do, I Do," a fund-raising project for the church related drama club and the Women's Society. Tickets are now on sale at $6.50, it was noted.

After the meeting the group worked on Christmas ornaments that will be sold at the bazaar. Mrs. Paula Smith invited the group to meet at her home for the October meeting. Others present were Mesdames Dorothy Allen, Minnie Frohardt, Marie Klein, Lois Lester, Edith McCasland, Lena Rouland, Geraldine Thomas, Reba Wallace, Doris Wigger, Paula Smith and Miss Josephine Ramsey.

DAR marks 50 years

A 50th anniversary celebration of Drusilla Andrews Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, is planned for the first fall meeting of the organization on Saturday, Sept. 21, at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Ruth McCarty, 3817 Village Lane.

Plans for the golden anniversary observance will include greetings to be read from the President, General, Mrs. Harry Jones, National Society of the DAR (NSDAR) and also from the Illinois State Regent, Mrs. Cleland E. Leaman.

The chapter also will read letters from members now living out of state or in nursing homes, according to Mrs. McCarty.

Presentation of a 50-year award to the charter member, if approval is received from the NSDAR in time, will be to Mrs. Dorothy Buenger. Tribute to direct descendants of Drusilla Andrews, Mrs. Buenger and Miss Nelle Hart also will be presented, as well as a memorial tribute to another charter member, the late Mrs. Mary Connole who died in July.

Other officers of the chapter include, Mrs. Janet Wilson, the vice-regent; Mrs. Barbara Williams, secretary; Mrs. Margaret Bell, treasurer; Mrs. Eva Neiter, chaplain; Mrs. Emma Schoen, registrar and Mrs. Mildred Whyers, historian and librarian.

According to the Chapter's history, Sept. 15 will mark 50 years of continuous service to the community and nation by the Drusilla Andrews Chapter. Twelve women met at the Granite City public library in 1924 to sign the petition for a charter for the local chapter.

Mrs. Buenger of Belleville, one of the original members, still belongs to the local chapter. This group of ladies immediately took action to promote the aims of the National Society of the DAR which are historic, educational and patriotic service. In February 1925, the group offered two DAR medals to the pupils of the Quad-City area.

one to a high school student and one to a eighth grader for writing the best essay on immigration problems and the Indians of Illinois.

Since 1887, awards have been presented annually to the good citizen of each local high school selected from the senior girls.

Among other projects, members in December 1925 attempted to locate graves of local Revolutionary soldiers and have them properly marked, and in April 1926 distributed pamphlets on the use of the flag to each school teacher and Boy and Girl Scout leaders.

More recently the organization has worked with the blood plasma program and contributed hours to both the Red Cross and USO.

Membership in the DAR is open to any woman 18 years of age or older who is descended from a man or woman who served in the armed forces, or civil officer in one of the several colonies or states, or United Colonies or States, or as a recognized patriot.

For more information interested persons may contact Mrs. McCarty at 931-6037 or the chapter registrar, Mrs. Emma Schoen, at 931-1248.

CIRCLE DEVOTIONAL

The devotional was given by Staydhar, based on the 11th chapter of Acts.

Dessert was served to those mentioned and Mrs. Helen Burgess, Mrs. Leta Kollenburn, Thomas Martin, Harold McBride and guests, JoAnn Surdivant and Lesa Randall. The October meeting will be in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas Martin.

Jaycees seeking Miss GC entries

Every young girl dreams of becoming Miss America and the girl who is selected as Miss Granite City could be the next Miss America, Owen Ross of the Granite City Jaycees said today.

Ross, who serves as chairman of the Jaycees' board of directors, is general chairman for the Miss Granite City Pageant, scheduled to be conducted in November at the Granite City High School South auditorium.

Now is the time for any young woman in the Granite City area who qualifies to decide to enter the pageant, Ross said.

To qualify, a candidate must be between the ages of 18 and 28 years on Sept. 1, 1975; is required to be a high school graduate by the same date and must never have been married.

Talent will be considered in the judging and each candidate should possess some quality of talent, either trained or potential, Ross said.

Qualification is varied in the talent area and a contestant need not be trained in any specific field, he added.

Civic and social organizations are being urged to sponsor a candidate in the pageant and individual young women are invited to submit their own name as a candidate.

Applications may be obtained between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday, or from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday, Sept. 16, at a special booth in the Ballroom Village Shopping Center Mall; or by writing to the Granite City Jaycees, P.O. Box 3, Granite City, or by calling Ross, at 877-2396.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Sept. 12, 1974 Page 34

Serving as pageant co-chairman is Randall Hill, Jaycee external vice president. Committee chairmen appointed for the pageant are: Guy Cooper, finance and budget; Frank Woods, personnel and judges; Randall Hill and Emmett Meador, advertising, publicity and promotion; Jerry Gann, tickets and attendance; Tom Holtegrave, entries, hostesses and parade; Al DeLay, program books; and Jerry Gann, production and set design.

Both Ross and Hill stressed that all volunteer workers are needed to help in the project and urged those wishing to participate to contact a specific committee chairman.

"This is a community program and we will welcome anyone who wishes to make it a successful endeavor," the officers said.

Ross said a limited roster of sponsors for the November pageant presently is being assembled and he invited interested firms and individuals to volunteer as sponsors.

He explained that sponsors are special financial contributors who aid in providing the funds to finance a scholarship which is awarded to each new Miss Granite City.

Serving as a pageant sponsor also entitles the person to special seating accommodation at the pageant, a listing in the souvenir magazine and special honors and recognition from the Jaycees organization, Ross noted.

Poise, beauty and talent are the three major requirements in a contestant who will be judged by the same guidelines as applies to Miss Illinois and Miss America candidates. Contestants will appear in an evening gown, a swimsuit and in the presentation of her particular talent, Ross said.

Registration for Venice pre-school

The Venice Pre-School "Right-to-Read" program will conduct registration Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The Pre-School program will be held every Tuesday and Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. until 11 a.m. The District hopes to provide transportation where there is a need so that more boys and girls can participate.

To be eligible for enrollment, a child must be planning to attend the Venice Grade School Kindergarten in the 1975-1976 school year. (Age 5 by December 31, 1975).

The Venice Pre-School program was initiated in 1972 and was part of a Title II Reading Related Media Project which brought $6,000 worth of library materials to the Venice district. A description of the Venice program is to be included in a nationally disseminated catalog of Reading programs to be published by the American Institutes for Research.

Major railroads in area may back a modified rail relocation proposal

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council has been informed that its proposals for relocation of railroad facilities might, if modified, win the support of the St. Louis metropolitan region's rail operators.

J.B. Buffalo, president of the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis, indicated in a letter to Gateway Council Executive Director Eugene G. Woody that — although the proposals cannot be supported by the association in their present form — "we believe agreement can be reached quickly on a modification to one of these plans that will justify our support."

Woody during the weekend sent a letter to John Ingram, administrator of the Federal Railroad Administration, requesting a grant of $140,000 to be used in exploring ways of making modifications acceptable to the railroad operators.

Most of the requested grant — $125,000 — would be for the financing of additional work by the consortium of consulting firms which helped to prepare the original railroad relocation plans.

The remaining $15,000 would enable the Gateway Council to monitor the new studies and work by railroad representatives.

In his letter to Woody, Buffalo of the Terminal Railroad Association suggested that representatives of rail organizations affected by the railroad relocation proposals form a study group to consider possible modifications.

Moody has proposed the formation of a committee including representatives of 19 rail organizations, the 19 consist of the Terminal Railroad, the 13 line railroads which own the association, and the five other railroads of the area.

St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Ross, chairman of the Gateway Council, said this week he welcomed the Terminal Railroad's response to the rail relocation proposals.

He described Buffalo's suggestion that a rail relocation plan acceptable to the railroads could be formulated as "a very important development in achieving the modernization of rail facilities in this region."

The Gateway Council's Railroad Relocation Task Force has presented to the East-West board of directors three alternative railroad relocation plans, varying in cost from $50,000,000 to $150,000,000.

The announced purpose of each proposal is to improve efficiency of rail operations in the St. Louis area and make some of the land presently occupied by rail lines available for other purposes.

One of the alternatives calls for the creation of a new master switching yard in Illinois.

Railroad representatives have expressed the belief that a master yard as big as that proposed in the present alternatives would not be necessary, since many trains are pre-sorted in other places before arriving in the St. Louis area.

Explorer 'Trainoree' to be at Camp Sunnen

An Explorer "Trainoree" is scheduled Sept. 27, 28 and 29 at Camp Sunnen near Potosi, Mo. It was announced today by Dr. Jack Miller, Explorer chairman for the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) district of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council.

"I hope every Explorer in our district will make a note on his calendar to attend this event. I personally feel that it is important members from all posts attend, regardless of how large or small they might be," Dr. Miller emphasized.

"With school starting, this is a good time for posts to start their recruiting drives and bring new members to this event."

Reservations are due at the local Scout Service Center, 1338A Niedeberghaus Ave., by 5 p.m. Sept. 23. There is a registration fee of 75 cents per person for the event.

Purpose of the event is to assist members of various Explorer units to understand their responsibilities in making their post successful.

The weekend also will be filled with fun and fellowship among the various groups, according to Dr. Miller.

Individual posts will be responsible for their own food, cooking, camping equipment and supplies.

Legislators eyeing Library of Congress called 'pirates'

Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Pirates and saboteurs, that's what they are, declares freshman Rep. Joel Pritchard of Seattle of more than half the members of the House.

His blanket condemnation includes the six Democrats and four Republicans of the Illinois Delegation who signed a petition to use part of the $80 million James Madison Annex to the Library of Congress as a fourth House office building.

The Madison Annex, to be completed by 1978, is to have five floors above ground and three below.

It was authorized by Congress to store in safety the overflow of books and priceless Americana assembled by the Library of Congress, an institution of world renown.

Rep. Fortney Stark, a freshman Democrat from the San Francisco Bay area, provoked Pritchard's ire when he circulated a petition urging House Speaker Carl Albert "to take a strong position on using some of the new library building for office space."

One of Stark's aides said he had collected 230 signatures and needed only 218 for a majority. Stark's list included these Illinoisans as petitioners:

Reps. Frank Annunzio, D-11th Dist.; Harold R. Collier, R-8th; Cardiss Collins, D-7th; Edward J. Derwinski, R-4th; Robert P. Hanrahan, R-3rd; Edward R. Madigan, R-21st; Morgan F.

Murphy, D-2nd; Melvin Price, D-23rd; Dan Rostenkowski, D-8th; and Sidney R. Yates, D-9th.

Rep. Ralph H. Metcalfe, D-1st Dist., was one Illinoisan disassociating himself from such a move, protesting the takeover petition in the Congressional Record.

Pritchard also set out his view pretty succinctly in the Congressional Record.

"I want to go on record as strongly opposed to this piracy," said the Seattle Republican.

He reminded his colleagues the annex is being built to bring the library's vast resources together for better utilization "by the Congress and the American public."

Pritchard also pointed out that the Library of Congress spends $3 million a year to rent extra space in Virginia and Maryland for its overflow.

"The Library of Congress is one of our greatest and most valuable institutions," Pritchard said. "We all recognize the fact. So let us stop trying to sabotage it."

House members now have three office buildings, the Cannon, Longworth and Rayburn.

The Rayburn was completed in 1965 at a cost of $125 million, twice the original estimate. In addition, the 435-member House has taken over the old Congressional Hotel for office space for its expanded payroll.

Still, complains Stark, author of the petition, "We're hanging people from the chandeliers."

Stark proposes to use "only one or two floors up to five years" in the Madison Annex, his aide explains. This would tide members over pending development of long-term plans for another House office building.

Yet, the aide concedes, Stark's proposal has been likened to getting the camel's nose under the tent.

Speaker Albert tried earlier to get the Madison Annex for House office space when it was just a hole in the ground.

But he was reminded during the excavation period that legislation authorizing the library states: "Nothing contained in the act . . . shall be construed to authorize the use of the (library annex) . . . for general office building purposes."

Stark and his majority appear pretty much foreclosed.

Park Pre-School opens Monday

The first session of the Granite City Park District pre-school classes will begin at 9:30 a.m. Monday, according to Harold Brown, park superintendent.

Sessions will be held at the Nameki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues, for students who already are registered, Brown added.

EVELYN M. McDONALD, 17 Westgate Drive, has been presented a Department of the Army certificate crediting her with 30 years of federal service. She works in the Supply Division, Headquarters and Installation Support Activity (Army Aviation Systems Command) at Granite City.

Jobs available will include skate guards, concession workers and skate room attendants. Those applying must be residents of the park district, the manager reported.

Hodge announced the ice rink will open on Oct. 6.

Corn leaf blight damage is minor

By DALE A. LAW
University of Illinois
Extension Adviser

YELLOW LEAF BLIGHT

A few Madison County farmers have contacted the Extension office about the yellowish tan oval areas on the lower corn leaves in their fields. These are most likely due to yellow leaf blight which is caused by a fungus, Phyllosticta. It is characterized by oval-to-elliptical, tan-to-cream colored spots, frequently surrounded by yellowish areas.

Several spots may merge to produce irregular blotches, a severe blighting, and a general yellowing of the leaves.

Ideal conditions for the fungal spores is cool and wet weather; however, it doesn't usually spread rapidly from field to field. At this stage of the season, it should do little damage and there is no economical control measure to be taken.

If your field is severely infected, you may want to consider crop rotation along with a clean plowdown of corn debris before planting next year. This will reduce the amount of overwintering inoculum and will break the life cycle of the fungi.

There is still time for Madison County swine producers to enroll in the "Professional Pork Producers Short Course" to be offered on seven successive Wednesday evenings beginning Nov. 20 at Litchfield. Every phase of modern pork production will be covered by specialists. Contact Dale Law at the Extension office to enroll.

The 1974 "Pork Industry Day" will be held Tuesday, Dec. 10, at the University of Illinois. The program will feature reports of current research, equipment displays, and talks on topics of current interest to producers and other people involved in the pork industry.

Pork Industry Day is a program sponsored by the Animal Science Department and the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Illinois.

It will not be supplemented this year with area pork days. Anyone interested in attending may contact the Extension office about pooling rides.

Pigs to be entered in the "1975 Illinois Spring Barrow Show" must be tattooed before they are 30 days of age and their nomination form postmarked no later than Oct. 20, 1974.

Proper care in transporting boars will insure maximum service by minimizing stress, injuries and possible sickness.

Careful handling of new boars can mean greater returns to your swine enterprise.

Any stress or sickness that causes high temperatures can lower fertility or even produce temporary sterility which might last six to eight weeks. You should follow these few simple guides when transporting your newly purchased boar: —Don't ship boars that have just been taken off a self-feeder or have been fed within an hour or two before loading. —Have safe, well-built loading and unloading facilities. —Clean and disinfect the truck before transporting the boar.

—Have suitable bedding in the truck (sand in summer, straw in winter) and protection against weather.

—Use a divider when hauling strange boars together in the same truck.

A newly-purchased boar would be isolated for at least 30 days in quarters that have been cleaned and disinfected. The isolation facility should be located several hundred feet from the herd, provide protection from the weather, and have an exercise area.

It is advisable to test-mate the new boar during the isolation period.

Cross breeding swine is the only practical way of maintaining and improving traits that are not highly heritable. Traits that are low in heritability are generally sow performance traits. These include the number of pigs farrowed, number of pigs weaned, and litter weight at weaning. Growth rate and feed efficiency are sometimes included on this list.

A recent study indicates that cross bred sows farrow more pigs than do purebred sows. Also, crossbred pigs have a greater growth rate and survival rate than do purebred pigs.

The combination of greater number of pigs farrowed and greater survival and growth

Average is straight-A

Antoinette Sellner, daughter of J. A. Sellner Jr., 14 William Court, has achieved recognition on the dean's list at Bradley University in Peoria.

A senior, she is majoring in intermediate education. She received a straight-A average on a perfect 4.0 scale.

There are 768 students recognized on the dean's list for the second semester of the 1973-74 academic year, the office of Dr. George B. Ferguson, vice president for academic affairs, announced this week. A total of 199 students at Bradley achieved a straight-A average on the current dean's list.

rate in crossbred letters results in a substantial increase in pounds of pigs produced.

Yorkshire, Hampshire and Duroc breeds are by far the most popular breeds used for cross breeding in Illinois. Yorkshire have good mothering ability and litter size. Hampshires excel in carcass quality. And Durocs have superior growth rate and feed efficiency.

Some breeders may replace Yorkshire with Chester White or Landrace or use Spot or Poland China instead of Duroc. Whichever breed is used, a good cross breeding program should include a boar from each of the three groups in rotation.

Hope to unleash gas, oil in coal fields of Illinois

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

The House is resuming consideration of an energy reorganization bill that holds the promise of unlocking the gas and oil in Illinois coal fields.

Before the House adjourned prior to Labor Day, it had completed general debate and began reading amendments on the bill to establish a national program for research and development in non-nuclear energy sources.

The first order of business when the House returned Sept. 11 was to take up the bill, H.R. 13865.

The Senate passed a similar bill, S2744, by voice vote on Aug. 15.

If enacted, the Senate bill would initiate a 10-year, $20 billion program. It would abolish the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and create a new Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA).

ERDA would assume the coal research assignment now held by the Interior Department and also take over the National Science Foundation's solar energy research.

The Senate bill, under a unanimously supported amendment offered by Sen.

Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., would authorize $1.3 billion for non-nuclear research and development in fiscal 1976.

The Jackson amendment also sets a policy that nuclear energy programs shall not overwhelm non-nuclear research, as has been true in the past.

Dr. Dixie Lee Ray, AEC chairman, in a report last December acknowledged as much when she said:

"Present energy problems stem, in large part, from the lack of a coordinated national energy research and development program over the last 20 years. Only nuclear power has received sustained support at adequate levels."

Dr. Ray's statement was quoted in House debate before its Aug. 22 adjournment when it was also pointed out that ERDA would be directed to conduct research and development in nine specific areas.

The fifth one specified is coal. ERDA would look for methods to make its use environmentally acceptable, and especially to seek faster and better coal liquefaction and gasification processes.

Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., told his House colleagues that the most immediately promising technology for direct use of coal in an environmentally acceptable fashion is flue gas desulfurization (FGD).

Removal of the high-sulfur contents of coal would, of course, be a boon for Illinois Fields pending ERDA's later development of economically practicable gasification and liquefaction processes.

Bingham pointed out that the Environmental Protection Agency asserts that the FGD technology in now capable of commercial use to meet air quality standards.

"Noting that coal is the most abundant domestic energy resource, or about 80 per cent of the nation's fossil fuel supply," Bingham said.

"Coal, therefore, must play a central role in supplying U.S. energy needs until more sophisticated energy systems come on line."

House debate on its bill pointed up how it differs from the Senate version, although both aim for national self-sufficiency in energy. Their differences will have to be reconciled by a Senate-House conference before final enactment.

Laclede donates $7,000 to alcohol-drug program

Efforts of the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency to reduce alcohol and drug misuse in the county have been given a major boost by a donation of $7,000 from the Laclede Steel Co.

The council, which played and is continuing to play a major role in the establishment and implementation of the Laclede Alcohol-Drug program, is working with other industries in the county to establish similar programs.

According to a Laclede official, the decision by the board of directors of Laclede to make such a substantial contribution to the council was based upon recognition of the potential reduction in overall alcohol-drug misuse in the county which could result from the approach to the problem advocated by the council and the programs it is now conducting.

Dr. George Long, executive director of the council, said that the council's objective of reducing both the amount of misuse and the problems that result from misuse can only be achieved by programs which are aimed at the source of the problem — programs which are directed toward eliminating the causes, or the factors that encourage and lead to misuse.

He said that the council now provides direct treatment services to alcohol and drug misusers and is planning to expand these services to include a medical detoxification capability for both alcohol and drug misusers beyond what is now provided by the local hospitals in the county.

Dr. Long noted, however, that these direct treatment programs alone, no matter how extensive, will not solve the community's drug-alcohol misuse problem for two reasons.

First, only a very small percentage of drug-alcohol misusers will utilize these services and seek treatment on their own accord. They will do so only when they are essentially forced to as a last resort, or by pressure from those most seriously affected by their behavior. Usually, their families, their employers, or as is often the case with youth, their respected peers.

Secondly, treatment

programs for these already "sick" from misuse alone, can do little or nothing to reduce the incidence of misuse. This reduction must come from programs aimed at early detection and prevention, and the elimination of those factors in the social, cultural, industrial or family environment that encourage misuse.

For both of these reasons a program directed toward the reduction of drug-alcohol misuse must include major efforts directed toward the education and training of families, employers and the community in general on the nature of alcohol and drug misuse behavior and its early detection and prevention, the spokesman said. The council's present programs as well as its future plans are aimed at achieving that goal.

Alcohol and drug misuse is a much more serious problem than most residents of the county realize. It is presently costing Madison County alone in excess of 30 million dollars a year, he said. There are by rather conservative estimates more than 15,000 drug misusers. For each of these misusers there are another 3 to 4 family members who are suffering seriously from the misusers' behavior.

In other words, there are in addition to the 15,000 adult abusers, another 40 to 60,000 innocent victims — wives, husbands and children — whose lives are being seriously degraded or damaged by alcohol-drug misuse. This is a fact which should be taken into account when considering the seriousness of the problem, he added.

The number of young people — elementary school age and above — who are involved in drug-alcohol misuse can not be reliably estimated but it is believed to be in excess of 4,000 in the county.

Even the short term results of the misuse by the young certainly represent a problem that should be of major concern to all, he commented. The long range effects, which no one has yet been able to predict with any clarity, could be even more devastating to the future, if it is not reduced, than the present alcohol-drug misuse problem among the adult population.

Outlawed signs still coming down in state

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

I think that I shall never see, A billboard lovely as a tree. Perhaps, unless the billboards fall, I'll never see a tree at all. Oden Nash had the right idea, Illinois is pursuing it.

The removal of billboards, that is.

Under the 1972 billboard law, all billboards along federal and primary and interstate highways must be at least 660 feet from the roads except in business districts. Even there, the law regulates the number, sizes and placement of billboards allowed.

"We have been carrying out this law in three phases," explained Arch Blackard of the Department of Transportation. "First we self-registration of signs which had to come down. Those owners meeting the registration deadline will be compensated for their loss."

Phase two began in the early part of 1973 with the removal of unregistered, non-conforming signs. As of August 1974, 20,200 of the 22,000 billboards in this category have been removed from Illinois highways.

"You might say we are at the tail end of this phase," he said, "and just into the next one."

"The next one" involves acquisition and removal of registered, non-conforming signs.

Of the 13,095 previously registered, 1,570 have been removed as of the August date. Not all of them have been removed.

"About 400 in this category have come down," Blackard said.

Removal of the signs is done by regular highway maintenance crews, and the speed with which they come down depends on weather conditions. However, within four years the department hopes to have all non-conforming billboards down.

Through the Highway Advertising Control Act—or the billboard law—Illinois is conforming with federal standards for the control of advertising along its highways.

The state receives federal reimbursement under the U.S. Highway Beautification Act of 1965, with the federal government paying 75 per cent of the cost of all signs acquired by the state erected prior to 1966.

Allowed under the law are such signs as historical markers, service club and certain church signs, signs on property advertising services offered on the site, and official and directional signs. They, too, must meet certain standards.

Bubblemasters net trophies at dive

More than 100 attended a dive, sponsored annually by the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City, at the Pontiac Bear Dock, on Bull Shoals Lake, Mo.

The traditional windup dive of the summer season features spearfishing tournaments in scuba and skin diving divisions and adult club members and guests, dock fishing contests for children, a treasure hunt and a club-hosted fish fry and party for all divers and their families. In the spearfishing contest, using scuba gear, first place for the largest fish was won by Ed Duffin, whose catch also netted him a large traveling award presented by the Granite City club each Labor Day and held by its recipient until the following year.

Dee Adams of the Bubblemasters received the second place trophy in the largest fish contest (scuba).

Also in scuba, Phil Lamm speared the most fish; Ron Ruppel, second, and Don Ballwin of St. Louis, third, most.

In skin diving spearfishing, Rich Grizzard won first place, largest; Don Ballwin, first place, most; and Ed Duffin, second place, most fish.

Winners in the treasure hunt event were announced at the fish fry and party. The successful contestants and their prizes were: Don File, St. Louis, first, scuba tank; Mary Adams, Granite City, second, diver's regulator; Vance Weiss, Bubblemasters' president, third, speargun; Dee Adams, fourth, back pack gear; Larry Earney, fifth and Seoud Miller, sixth, divers' knives.

Children of the divers enjoyed fishing from the dock and competed in contests geared to their 8 years and under and youngsters in an older age category.

Catching the biggest fish and receiving trophies in the 8 years and under group were Paul Viessman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Viessman, 1776 Carolyn Drive, and Robin Keel, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Earney, 12 Eastgate Drive. Winners in the 8 years and over division were Dennis Duffin, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Duffin, 2240 Lynch Ave., largest fish, and Richard Rickey, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rickey of Bethalto, most fish.

A total of 106 persons were served a potluck style dinner at the windup party.

The Bubblemasters plan their final competitive dive Sept. 21 and Sept. 22 at Indian Point on Table Rock Lake, Mo., when the Spearfisherman of the Year winner will be determined, according to Weiss.

The club president said three or four contestants are "very close in points" for the prestigious award, which signifies the most points accumulated over the entire season.

Current standing in the point totals, Weiss said, shows Ed Duffin leading Phil Lamm by two points, followed closely by Larry Earney, third, Rich Grizzard, fourth and Dee Adams, fifth.

The winners are honored at the club's annual awards banquet. The event is scheduled on Nov. 16 at the VFW Hall in Granite City, Weiss said.

To award honors at conclave

Presentation of the Vigil Honor will highlight the final convocation of the Calokisa Lodge, Order of the Arrow at Camp Sunnen near Potosi, Mo., during the weekend.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of honor campers consisting of both boy and adult members. The local Calokisa Lodge has a total of 300 members from the southern half of Madison County and all of Bond County.

The Vigil Honor is the highest award the Lodge can bestow on a member, and must be approved by the National Vigil Honor committee.

The Vigil will be presented to two members of the lodge. Names are withheld until the time of the actual ceremony. The honor is given to an individual that has rendered an unusually high degree of service to his local Scout unit, his community and the Boy Scout program in general.

Ordeal members who have continued their service to their local unit and Scouting over the past 10 months or longer will be elevated to the Brotherhood membership.

The lodge is divided into three chapters and election of officers will be held for both chapter and lodge officers. Kevin Kearns is chairman of the fall convocation. Reginald Mennerick is the lodge lay advisor and William Monical is the professional advisor to the lodge. All are from Granite City.

Mike Bilbrey, Venice, is the retiring chief of the lodge.

Mountain top duty ends

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

For the first time in 4½ years, half of it spent on top of Yastake Mountain on Okinawa, Army Specialist Five Harold F. "Ricky" Marshall has been reunited with his family in Granite City during a furlough lasting several weeks.

Spec. 5 Marshall, now 23½ years old, arrived on a long peak on Okinawa about 2½ years ago and became one of the legendary "Seven Men on the Mountain," as the U.S. Army communications unit is known to Okinawans.

The serviceman is a strategic microwave systems technician and, while serving overseas the past 4½ years, he has participated in the installation and operation of microwave systems in various countries in the Pacific and also helped to train personnel to man the facilities.

Spec. 5 Marshall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Riggs, 38 Park Towne West, and Harold H. Marshall of Staunton.

He completed his leave last week and is now en route to Fort Monmouth, N. J., where he will receive extensive electronics training. Upon completion, he is to be assigned to The White House communications in Washington, D. C.

Spec. 5 Marshall attended Granite City High School and was employed at the former "Big G" Supermarket before joining the Army. He served in Vietnam shortly after he enlisted in 1969.

At the mountain top station, the serviceman and his comrades maintained a webwork of communication equipment to handle radio dispatches between Okinawa and Japan and other areas.

Standing on top of a desolate mountain peak on Northern Okinawa, the facility is called Yastake Tropicospheric Scatter Radio Station and is part of the U.S. Army STRATCOM Signal group, based at Sukirian in Central Okinawa.

The wind whines constantly at the top of Yastake Mountain, the second highest on Okinawa. It commands an impressive view over the western half of Motobu peninsula—rolling foothills, clusters of houses along highways and gleaming stretches of beaches.

Across Bise Channel and the wide expanse of water of Nago Bay can be glimpsed I-Shima Island.

The men live in quarters previously occupied by officers.

There is no mess hall and the men have to cook their own food.

They are given a special ration allowance with which they purchase foodstuffs from the market at Toguichi, a port town about four miles down the mountain.

The station employs 19 Okinawans and occasionally visitors make the long trek up the mountainside to the soldiers' elevatederie—"So we didn't get too lonely," the Granite City serviceman said. "But it is wonderful to be home again," he added.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Shane of Granite City, Raymond Rushing, Washington Park, and Mrs. Pauline Thomas, East St. Louis.

DOWN FROM MOUNTAIN. Army Specialist 5 Harold F. Marshall of Granite City, home for the first time in 4½ years from Yastake Mountain on Okinawa, has been reassigned to The White House communications in Washington, D. C.

Tourney proceeds donated to charity

Proceeds from the Elks' Lodge 1063 annual golf tournament are being accumulated and will be sent to the Illinois Elks' Association Fund for Physically Handicapped Children, it was reported this week.

Funds also were raised by two hole-in-one contests, one at the eighth hole, conducted by Burel Schmissauer, chairman of the state association fund for the handicapped children, and one on the 13th hole, conducted by the Elkettes with Theresa Harding officiating.

Several state Elks' officials were on hand for the weekend event, including James R. Kenney of Granite City, state president.

Others included: Richard Strope of Pekin, first state vice-president, Ray Sheehan of Highland Park, immediate past president; Joseph Harding of Granite City, chaplain; Clyde Dial of Decatur, past president, and I. H. "Ernie" Stipp of Springfield, secretary. Also playing was Pete Ault of the Pekin Lodge.

Charles Rodell was chairman of the golf event. Ed Reinagel was official scorekeeper and presented awards to the winners after a buffet dinner arranged by Claude Miller. The dinner was served at the Elks' Lodge here.

Reinagel had low score with 75, Christ Paschoff won the handicapped competition on the front nine holes with John Janek earning that honor on the back nine, and three golfers tied for the lowest score, after handicaps, Rodell, Harding and George Valicoff.

Mrs. Batson rites held

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Tuesday at a Bethalto funeral home for Mrs. Lillian C. Batson, 66, of 119 West Cherry St., Hartford, the mother of Mrs. Earl (Donna Jean) Dennis of Madison.

Mrs. Batson was a nurse aid at the Madison County Shelter Care Home 18 years. She died at 11 a.m. Sunday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where she had been a patient two days.

She was born in Eldorado, Ill. Other survivors include her husband, George W. Batson; another daughter, Mrs. Don (Georgianna) Reynolds of Edwardsville; two sons, Charles D. Batson of Bethalto and James L. Batson of Tulsa, Okla.; four brothers, James and Donald Beasley of Wood River, the Rev. Eugene Beasley of Mounds, Ill., and Jack Beasley of Eldorado.

Students of today working 'within the system'—survey

Cynical. Apathetic.

Optimistic. Rebellious. Thoughtful.

Cooperative. Serious.

What is the mood of youth in the America of the Seventies?

As students return to school

this fall, high school principals, teachers, and parents are looking eagerly for answers.

Many of them are revealed in

The Mood of American Youth, a new study by the National Association of Secondary School

Principals and the Gilbert

Youth Research Corp. of New York.

"The study shows that most students today want to work within the system," James

Dumont, principal of Granite

City High School South, said this week.

"Many of our students perform volunteer work through the school, their churches, and other organizations — and many more are interested in doing so," he related.

Interviews with high school students throughout the nation

probed their attitudes on education, work, school activities, parents and family, marriage, politics, religion, the use of leisure time, and the future of American society.

The survey shows that students today are cautiously optimistic about their life as adults of the Eighties. Young people feel:

—That their schools are providing them with a superior education (77 per cent; 99 per cent plan to finish high school).

—That high school students should have the opportunity to work part-time during the school year (84 per cent).

—That happiness at home (92 per cent) is more important than fame (less than 2 per cent). A good family life attracts far more high school students (74 per cent) than a lifetime of interesting experiences (25 per cent).

—That participation in politics is distasteful, but the voting is a civic responsibility; 78 per cent plan to vote in every election for which they're eligible, but only one in ten would be willing to run for public office.

—That social reform should be accomplished peacefully

through community service

rather than radical upheaval;

43 per cent are already involved in community service; 39 per cent would like to be more involvement, and over 40 per cent plan to expand or continue their involvement after high school.

—That goals are important and that hard work will be necessary to achieve them (85 per cent).

—That those goals will center around completing an education (35 per cent).

finding a job (52 per cent) and settling into marriage and a family (46 per cent).

—That most difficulties with their parents are a result of communication problems,

rather than deep philosophical divisions.

Less than 5 per cent of the students expressed strong disagreement with their parents' ideas on politics, clothing styles, choice of friends, religion, education, drugs, and work; but 16 per cent said they could not accept their parents' ideas on sex.

—That overpopulation (23 per cent) and ecology (36 per cent) are today's two most important global issues; poverty (30 per cent) and the threat of a third world war (21 per cent) were also much on students' minds.

—That political change can be accomplished by working within the government.

Over 50 per cent feel that the present constitutional government serves U. S. citizens well;

less than 6 per cent said it should be abolished in favor of another form.

Paper 'traps' for the gypsy moth

At first glance, it seems nothing is too good for the gypsy moth.

Not only do they travel first class, now it looks like the conservation department and other agencies are putting out drinking cups for them.

It only looks that way. The little green and white paper cups are actually traps. They have been impregnated with a sevent which is a sex stimulant

for the adult male gypsy moth

and with a sticky substance which will hold him there once he responds.

The idea is to try to see if any of the highly destructive moths have yet come trucking into

Illinois. That's how they travel—by truck, or car, or train, or camper, to which the adults attach the eggs. The adults, male or female, are not a problem, except that they produce offspring.

It's the young moths, still in the larval stage, who can devastate a forest in a matter of weeks.

Joining the conservation department in the moth census attempt are the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Cook

County Forest Preserve

district, and the National

Camper and Hikers

Association.

The green and white paper cups have been nailed to trees, posts, suspended from limbs or tacked to nearby buildings, chiefly in camping areas,

woods, truck terminals or any other sites where motor or train

traffic from the eastern states enters Illinois.

Fred Siemert, head of the forestry division in the conservation department, said the cups were only recently put out and they are only checked each two weeks, so no results have been obtained so far. Last year, the department found three males during a similar count.

No egg masses, or larvae,

have been found in Illinois yet,

Siemert said.

If larvae are found, there are steps which can be taken to reduce the threat to state forests, but most involve some hazards. No pesticide yet has been found which attacks only the gypsy moth. One chemical which does work against them is unfortunately, a prime threat to beekeepers in the area, since bees are quite susceptible to it as well.

The old standby DDT worked on the gypsy moth, but has now been banned. There is a release by NASBP in October.

forces fighting the gypsy moth may ask for special permission to use limited amounts of DDT

in the fight.

Meanwhile, conservation

forces are asking the public to please leave the green and white, plainly marked, paper cups strictly alone.

Time for cookies, Girl Scouts of region report

Those cookies which cookie fans have become accustomed to ordering and eating annually are ushering in the fall season this year. In other words, it is Girl Scout cookie time. This year, Brownies will again sell cookies, as will

Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts. Cookie orders will be taken Sept. 20-29 and the cookies will be delivered to customers and money collected Oct. 28 to Nov. 8. The product sale is the only sale in which girls earn money for both their troops and the council. The girls earn funds for their own troop activities, which may encompass a wide range of projects. "At the same time, they are learning intelligent money management and the whys of budgets. Knowing their product sale income early in the year will help troops plan their activities accordingly," a spokesman commented. The River Bluffs Girl Scout Council is using cookie sale proceeds to provide special scouting opportunities for girls and to provide equipment and maintenance of seven council campsites. The newest of the camps is Camp Butterly, a 960-acre site near Farmington, Mo., purchased with proceeds from cookie sales. The development of Camp Butterly over the next few years will be paid for in the same manner. In addition to troop and day camping opportunities offered for adult volunteers as well as girls are held on the various sites. River Bluffs Council is a United Way agency and is cooperating with United drives throughout the council. Money

MRS. THOMAS CARMODY, the former Miss Janice Elaine Albers whose wedding took place at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Albers, 3119 Yale Ave.

(Hollywood-Andrews Studio)

Carmody-Albers nuptials at St. Margaret Mary's

St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Sept. 7 of Miss Janice Elaine Albers, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Albers, 3119 Yale Ave., and Thomas Richard Carmody, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carmody, 1704 Garfield Ave. The double-ring ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Joseph Hovey, assisted by the Rev. Roy Baugh, pastor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Nuptial selections, "Twelfth of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Alice Worthen, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw. Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Albers chose a gown of marquisette fashioned with a deep-scoop neckline, long full sleeves and a bouffant skirt that extended into a cathedral train. Tiny satin sweetheart bows were scattered on the skirt. She wore a satin net shell bonnet to secure an illusion veil accented with tiny bows and held a colonial bouquet of blue and white daisies, pink sweetheart roses and baby breath, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Joanne Albers, a sister of the bride, was honor attendant and wore a floral voile dress in beige, aqua and dusty rose shades. Long sleeves were set in a shirred bodice with a sweetheart neckline and a flared skirt terminated with a ruffle hem. She held a colonial arrangement of pink sweetheart roses, baby breath and blue and white daisies.

The groom selected Michael Richardson as his best man. Jim Carmody, a brother of the groom, and Dan Williams, his brother-in-law, served as ushers. Miss Pat Wilson attended the guest book at a reception held at the American Legion Hall. A rehearsal dinner was held at Charlie's Restaurant on the evening preceding the wedding. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Albers wore a chocolate brown lace torso dress created with a cream-colored pleated skirt.

Mrs. Carmody, the groom's mother, was attired in a brown and white knit short-sleeved dress complemented with a long-sleeved jacket. Both wore brown accessories and orchid corsages. Both the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Carmody are graduates of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is fifth-grade teacher at Wilson School and her husband works at Dunker Painting Co., Edwardsville. He received his degree in Earth Sciences.

They are now residing in Granite City. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Terry Meek and children, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Ashley and sons, all of Springfield, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carmody, Jacksonville, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey, Lawrence, Kan.; Mrs. Ray G'Sell, Florissant, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shreiner, Columbia, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams and Mr. and Mrs. David Peiper, all of Springfield, Ill.

Polyethylene film helps make good sauerkraut

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser-Home Economics

For a change of pace from cole slaw and cooked cabbage, try making sauerkraut from your late-crop cabbage to eat this fall and winter. One of the secrets of really good sauerkraut is to shred the cabbage as fine as possible—the finer the better so the cabbage juice can be brought out by the salt that's added for the fermenting process. Add 2 1/2 per cent salt by cabbage weight—that's 2 1/2 ounces of salt for 100 ounces (6 lb. 4-oz.) of cabbage—to the shredded cabbage and mix thoroughly. Then press the salted cabbage into a clean jar. The old three- to six-gallon porcelain jars make excellent sauerkraut. Leave at least two inches of head space at the top of the jar and cover the cabbage with polyethylene film. Push the film down tightly against the cabbage. Make sure the film won't leak, and then fill the head space up with water. A rubber band around the film and jar will keep the film in place. The polyethylene film won't let water get down to the cabbage, but it will prevent the gases passing into the cabbage so the cabbage will ferment properly. The jars should be kept at 65 to 75 degrees F.—a good place is in the basement or crawl space—for three to four weeks. Replace any water that may evaporate from the head space.

After three weeks, check the kraut for flavor. At this time, it's ready to eat, but you may want it to ferment a little longer for stronger flavor. If you want to store the sauerkraut for eating later, take it out of the fermenting jar and heat it on the stove until it simmers. Then put the kraut and its juices into hot, clean canning jars, leaving one-half inch head space, and seal by boiling in a water bath canner, 15 minutes for pints and 20 minutes for quarts.

FISHERMAN'S DREAM came true last week for John W. Perdue, co-owner of Perdue Furniture in Madison, when he landed this 10-foot 9-inch, 300-pound sailfish in the Pacific Ocean, 30 miles off the coast of Acapulco, Mexico. He and his wife, Mary, were on a business-vacation trip at the time. "It was my first trip to Acapulco and the first sailfish, and largest fish, I ever caught in my life," said Perdue.

Meal policy at St. Mary's

St. Mary's Parochial School has announced its policy for free meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch Program.

School officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility in families of one to 12 persons: $2,910, $3,830, $4,740, $5,640, $6,480, $7,310, $8,060, $8,810, $9,510, $10,190, $10,860, $11,530.

For each additional family member, the scale increases by $670.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases, foster children also are eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Schools plan Cub Scout informational programs

Twenty elementary schools in the area will hold a "School Night for Scouting" program designed to introduce both parents and boys to the Cub Scout program, Thursday, Sept. 10.

To be a Cub Scout a boy must be 8 years old or in the third grade.

Amvets welcome new members

Walter Bargiel, Mike Kmetz Sr. and Thomas D. Stephens were welcomed as new members of Amvet Post 204 in Madison at the group's meeting.

Commander Vasil Graville announced that the wheelchairs donated to the club by Steve Barzoff and Emmett Carlson were in use and he wanted to pay special thanks to the donors.

Remodeling of the club has been completed, according to Graville, but volunteers are needed to keep the place clean and in good condition.

Graville complimented Joe Papa and the family picnic committee for a job well done.

Tom Brunice, chairman of the Amvet steak supper scheduled Saturday, Sept. 28, at 6:30 p.m., reminded the membership that the cost was $5 per person and must be paid by Sept. 21. Brunice also said he could use some volunteers to help with the event.

Recognized for doing an outstanding job on a club project last month were Brunice, Charles Veach, Bill Diak and Joe Olavson.

The next regular meeting of the Amvets will be Thursday, Oct. 3, at 7:30 p.m. The Women's Social club will meet Thursday, Oct. 10.

Summer honors

Two hundred and twenty-nine undergraduate students at Western Illinois University, Macomb, have been cited for their scholastic achievements during the summer quarter.

They are being honored for compiling a quarterly grade-point average of 3.5 or better, based on 4.0 for straight A.

Students must attempt at least 12 quarter hours for a letter grade to be eligible; pass-fail hours are not counted in the compilation as hours attempted.

BROKEN AUTO TAKEN
The auto of Earl Tucker, 2427 Grand Ave., left at the Burger Chef parking lot at 1118 Madison Ave., after car trouble was experienced, was stolen, it was reported at 10:40 p.m. Monday. Police were searching for the four-door gray 1966 Pontiac this week.
